Antioch VFW marks golden anniversary

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The Antioch VFW Post 4551 celebrated their 50th anniversary at a large gala last weekend. The champagne was flowing as luminaries and veterans alike reflected on the past 50 years.

Village officials, Fifth District officials, Antioch's oldest veteran Floyd Horton, along with veterans from many different wars were on hand to celebrate the event. The dinner was catered by Maravelas of Fox Lake and Antioch Downtown Development Director Claude LeMere was the master of ceremonies.

"A hearty congratulations from the Village of Antioch on your 50th anniversary," said LeMere as he opened the program.

The Post then received a citation from the National Veterans organization. The citation was presented to VFW Post 4551 Commander John Kurinec.

"It is a privilege to be at your post tonight to help celebrate your 50th anniversary," said Fifth District Commander Fred Walschot. "Happy anniversary and good luck from the 5th District."

Car dealership, village search for new location

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The Village of Antioch and the Department of Community Development along with Lake Villa Chrysler, Plymouth, Jeep, Eagle have begun a search for a new location in Antioch after the lease-purchase agreement fell through last week. Originally, the car dealership was planning to move its operations from its current location in Lake Villa to Route 173 in Antioch.

Owners Paul Bach and Mike Lesser announced last year they would be moving the dealership to a new location in the Village of Antioch on Route 173, east of the Antioch Township Building. However, the dealership will now stay in Lake Villa until a new location is found.

Residents sweep election

ALEC JUNGE

Staff Reporter

Antioch High School District elections had three winners, all from the Antioch area.

The final vote tally was Sandy Jacobs with 1,279, Kathy Werchek with 1,130, Ed Koziorowski with 1,037, Joe Kane with 956, Fred Fetting III with 841 and Don Mertic with 752.

"I am very pleased the voters selected me," Werchek said. "I will not take any decision lightly. I will do my best to provide students with a positive experience and a good education."

This was Werchek's first attempt at public office. Her campaign consisted of sending out a newsletter and talking to residents at the Jewel store.

Lambert Drive may go to township

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

Lambert Drive, which borders on the Wisconsin Central Railroad tracks at Grass Lake Road, may soon belong to unincorporated Antioch Township. A disconnecting ordinance is being considered by the Village of Antioch.

Residents want the road taken care of, said Village Administrator Tim Wells.

In the 1980s the Village of Antioch annexed much of the right-of-way of the Wisconsin Central Railroad tracks from the state line to areas south of Beach Grove Road. However, the village is unable to provide sewer service beyond that point.

"To offer anyone sewer service south of Beach Grove Road is just not possible," said Wells. "Anything south of Beach Grove, we cannot service."

If the village disconnects Lambert Road, it will also be required to disconnect the tracks in that area.

"There is no way to disconnect the road without the railroad tracks," said Mayor Marilyn Shineflug.

Village officials have been in contact with Wisconsin Central and do not believe the railroad will have any objections to the disconnection.

If the disconnection takes place, Antioch Township will have the responsibility of maintaining Lambert Road.

According to Wells, Antioch Township Supervisor Jim Fields has indicated his willingness to discuss the issue. "Jim Fields would be willing to sit down at the table with us," Wells told the board.

The Antioch Village Board gave a approval to Village Attorney Ken Clark to draft a disconnection ordinance pending receipt of a "properly executed petition to disconnect."

Attorney to discuss issues

Attorney William M. Stroud will be on hand Nov. 21 to discuss homeowner association property issues at the next meeting of the United Homeowners Association of Unincorporated Antioch (UHAUA). Stroud, a Chicago lawyer who plans to open a practice in Antioch, will provide information regarding loss of association property and methods of safeguarding title. The meeting is open to the public and will be held at St. Stephen Church at 7:30 p.m. An update on UHAUA efforts for a sewer study in Antioch will also be provided.

ACE holds toy drive

Athlete Committed to Excellence (ACE) will be holding a toy and clothing drive during the week of Nov. 13-17. The drive is to benefit Lake County's center for battered women, A Safe Place. Residents can help by bringing in any useful clothing and toys in good condition. Boxes will be available in the ACHS Commons. For more information call 395-1421, extension 244.

Veterans Day services to be held

On Saturday, Nov. 11, the Antioch Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4551, the VFW Auxiliary, the Antioch American Legion and Auxiliary, the Girl and Boy Scouts will be holding services to pay tribute to their fallen comrades at Hillside Cemetery. The public is invited to attend and the services will begin at 11 a.m. Hillside Cemetery is located at the corner of Routes 59 and 173.

ACHS presents

Antioch Community High School will present two plays this season, "Cheaper By the Dozen" and "The Elves and the Shoemaker." Performances for "Cheaper" are Nov. 17 and 18 at 7:30 p.m. and Nov. 19 at 6:30 p.m. "Elves" will be performed on Nov. 19 at 2 p.m. In addition, "Elves" will be presented to area school children on Nov. 17.

Toys for Tots

The Antioch VFW Post 4551 will be accepting new, unwrapped toys for the Marine Reserve's Toys for Tots program again this year. The drop-off site is at the Post, 75 North Avenue in Antioch. The Post is open Monday through Saturday from 9 a.m. to noon. For more information call 395-5393.

Police begin using cop car computers

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

Antioch police officers have just completed the necessary training to begin using the new Computer Aided Dispatch (CAD) units which have been installed in all first response police units. The new computers will allow officers to directly access police information even while enroute to a police call.

"We have computers in every first response vehicle" said Deputy Chief Charles Watkins. "In all, six squad cars."

First response vehicles, Watkins said, are the cars that initially respond to any call for police help. The new CAD units will link police officers with the LEADS service in Springfield. Officers will have access to outstanding warrants, criminal histories, driving records, and even the number of times officers have been called to the same location.

"Things we used to have to write down, remember, or ask a dispatcher to look up, can now be done from the officer's car," explains Watkins. "The computer is now dispatching."

As a dispatcher answers a 911 emergency call, he or she types up the information. According to Watkins, the computer knows which cars in the field are free.

"Basically, the computer then sends the information that is generated," said Watkins.

The computer, as the dispatcher types the information, permanently stores the information. Antioch Police officers will also be able to access certain information from the Lake County Sheriff's Department through the CAD units.

"There is really no need for radio broadcasts anymore," said Watkins. But, don't throw out your scanners just yet. The department will simultaneously be sending information out over the radios so that other officers in the field will be able to know what is going on.

The new CAD units cost roughly $5,000 each. The units were paid for through the 75 cent surcharge residents pay with their phone bills. Antioch received the funding as a member of the ETSB (Claudia, I think this is the Emergency Telephone Systems Board - please ask Spencer). Antioch, the Lake County Sheriff's Department, Wauconda and the Lake Zurich police departments are all members. Through membership, each department is a Police Service Answering Point (PSAP), which provides the emergency 911 service to each community. In the past three years, Antioch has built the 911 building, installed the equipment, and has added the enhancement identifier, which automatically provides information to dispatchers about where a 911 call is being generated from. The CAD unit installation is one of the final steps in providing enhanced emergency 911 service to residents.

"At this time, we are as advanced as any police department in Lake County," said Watkins. "It allows us to offer better police protection to our residents."

Villages, schools meet to seek school solutions

ALEC JUNGLE
Staff Reporter

Representatives of Antioch High School board, political leaders and feeder elementary districts all met under one roof to begin the process of solving educational issues which face them all.

"What happens in the schools affects the community and what affects the community affects the schools," said Antioch High School Superintendent Dr. Dennis Hockney.

For the first time, community leaders were also part of the discussion. Attending the Nov. 1 meeting were Antioch Mayor Marilyn Shineflug, Lake Villa Mayor Frank Loffredo and Lindenhurst Mayor Paul Baumunk. Trustees from all three villages were also present.

"It allows for some good, solid discussions. We sometimes get isolated in our communities and this gives us a chance to get out in these different areas," Baumunk said.

Also in attendance were Antioch Elementary District Superintendent Dr. Daniel Burke, Emmons Superintendent Matt Tabor, Millburn Superintendent Jim Menzer, and Lake Villa Elementary Superintendent Dr. Alan Simon.

The districts met briefly last year to consider solutions for the space crunch dilemma most of them share. However, elementary districts decided to go their own way at that time.

Hockney indicated his board was interested in continuing discussions with the feeder districts and the communities. They suggested he schedule a meeting.

This meeting was held at the College of Lake County. It included a facilitator from the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service.

"There is a willingness to discuss issues that affect all of us in north Lake County educationally," Hockney said.

This meeting was more a chance for everyone to get acquainted with each other and for new administrators to introduce themselves.

Simon is looking forward to the next meeting on Oct. 5 at 7 p.m. at the high school.

"We will be talking about the growth issue and quality in education," Simon said.

Open house at Carmel High School

Carmel High School will host two open houses at the school, located in Mundelein. The first will be on Nov. 12 from 1 to 3 p.m. and the second on Tuesday, Nov. 28, from 7 to 9 p.m. The open house is designed to familiarize area families with the facilities and programs of Carmel High School.

Carmel High School, a recipient of the National Exemplary School Award from the U.S. Department of Education, is a four year Catholic college preparatory high school. Students come from over 50 communities throughout Lake County, as well as western McHenry, northern Cook County, and southern Wisconsin.

Carmel is in its thirty-third year with an enrollment close to 1250 students. Ninety-seven percent of the school's 1995 graduates have chosen to continue their education. One student in the class of 1996 has been selected as a National Merit Semifinalist, two students have been selected as Commended in the 1996 National Achievement Scholarship Program for Outstanding Negro Students, and nine members of the class were selected as Commended Students in the National Merit Scholarship program.

Administrators and faculty will be on hand to discuss the academic, extra-curricular and spiritual programs of the school. Information on tuition, financial aid, and transportation will also be available.

Tours, conducted by students, begin at the auditorium entrance at 1, 1:30, and 2 p.m. on Nov. 12, and 7, 7:30, and 8 p.m. on Nov. 28. There is the opportunity to meet parents as well as the school's faculty and administration at both sessions.

Placement testing for new students will be held on Saturday, Jan. 13, beginning at 8:15 a.m. Tuition and fees for this current year are $3,515.

Carmel is located on Route 176, between Libertyville and Mundelein.

ACHS Scorpions receive village awards

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The Antioch Community High School Sequoia Scorpions were presented with individual awards from the Village of Antioch after placing second in the Boosting Engineering Science and Technology (BEST) competition last month. The competition was held at Waukegan High School on Oct. 28.

The competition required students to assemble a remote control vehicle/robot from a box of parts sent to the competing teams. Each team received identical parts and had six weeks to construct their vehicle.

Antioch placed second out of nine high school teams. Team members include Austin McElroy, Fred Fetting, Eric Green, Ed Plese, Jason Bolton, Tom Beitzel, Matt Flemming, Ryan Smith, Juan Alvarez, and Clint Busch. Advisors of the team are Sam Busch, Ken McElroy, Paul Green, and Roy Smith.

"We are very proud of you," said Mayor Marilyn Shineflug. "It is wonderful."

The students displayed and operated their vehicle to the entire Antioch Village Board. The object of the competition was to design the vehicle and build. The finished product had to be fully operational and have the capability of moving PVC pipes into a designated area.

"We came up with a lot of different ideas," said student Clint Busch. "We picked the best one." As the students moved the PVC pipes around the Antioch Village Boardroom, Shineflug quipped, "I could not build that. I could not run it either."

The team now moves on to the national competition in Texas. The nationals will be held on Saturday.

Views On Dental Health

PLAQUE POINTERS

Plaque is probably the biggest cause of tooth decay and eventual loss. What is it - how do we acquire it - and how do we control it?

Plaque is the sticky, practically colorless film that builds continuously on the teeth. The main inhabitants of plaque are bacteria - one milligram of plaque can contain a half-billion bacteria. Bacteria ferment sugars in the mouth (why not eat sweets), changing them to acids which then eat away tooth enamel.

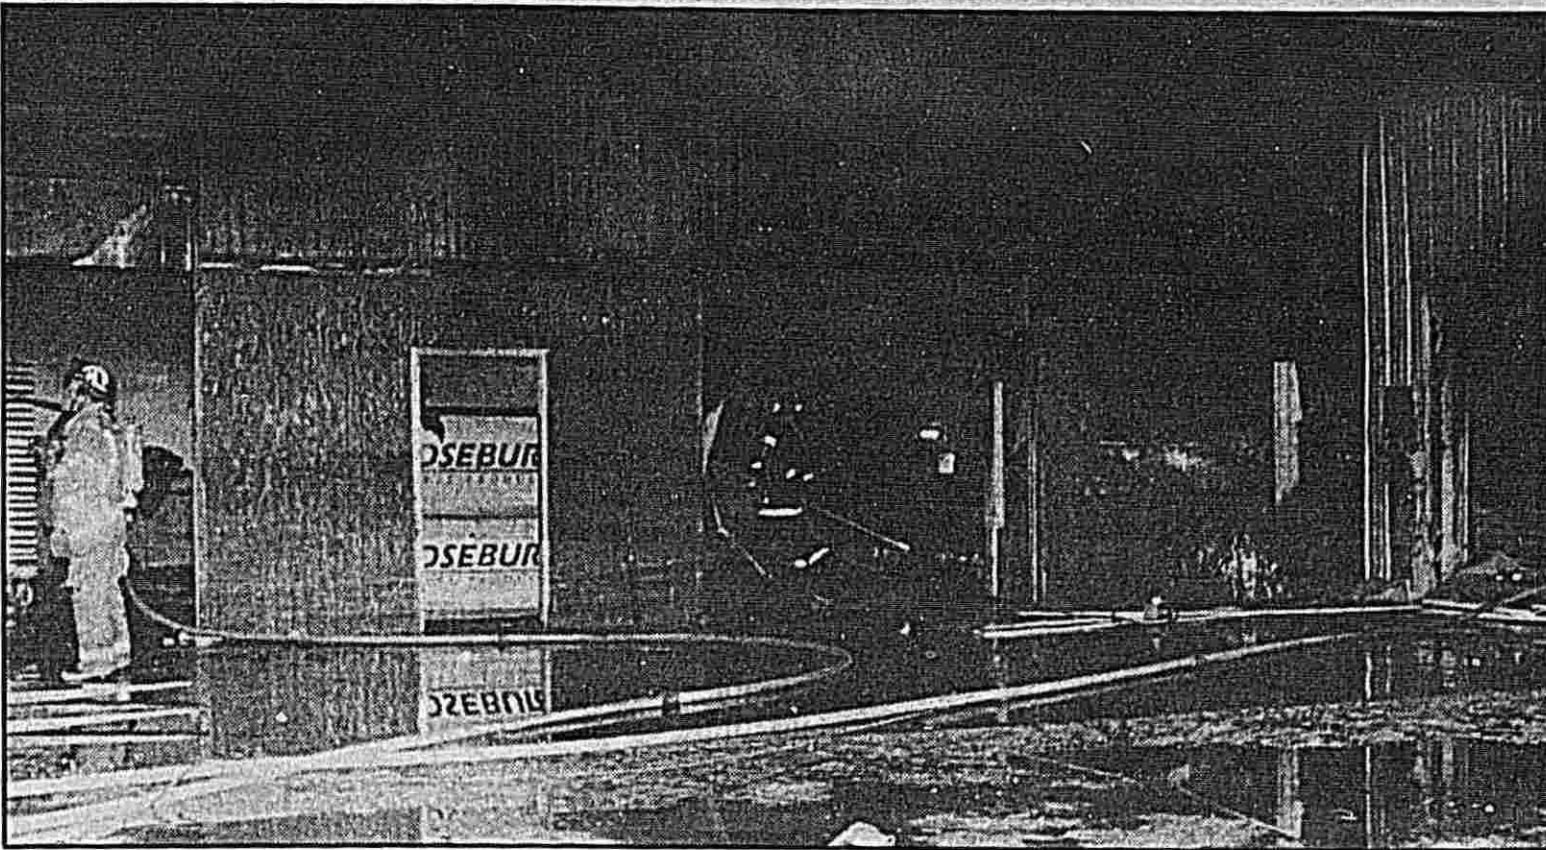

"Look, Ma - cavities!"

As the plaque creeps below the gum line, it mineralizes and becomes razor-sharp deposits of tartar which is the catalyst of periodontal (or gum) disease - by far, the major cause of tooth loss in adults. Plaque must be removed daily by "proper" brushing and the use of dental floss. Have your dentist or hygienist show you how to do it properly.

The best way, if not the only way, to remove tartar and long-established plaque is to have a professional cleaning. But, remember, it will start to reform the very next day. The only one who can remove plaque regularly is you.

Blaze erupts in lumber yard

ALEC JUNG
Staff Reporter

A fire of unknown origin caused extensive damage to Hill and Behan Lumber yard.

The fire was reported on Nov. 4 just after 6 p.m., according to Lake Villa Township Fire Chief Frank Slazes. The person in charge of the yard saw smoke coming from some pieces of wood.

The smoke "erupted" into a large fire as fire trucks were called to the scene.

Lake Villa Township Fire Department cut the chain to the gate in front of the store to fight the fire.

Slazes has not determined the cause of the blaze. The State Fire Marshal's office was called to aid in the investigation.

The hottest spot was in a storage shed, but nothing could be determined from the preliminary investigation on the site. The fire was contained to the shed area which is used for staining wood, according to Slazes.

Traffic was rerouted on Petite Lake Road and Rte. 83 until the fire could be contained. The yard is located at the intersection of these two roads.

Units from Grayslake, Fox Lake, and Round Lake assisted in extinguishing the fire.

The fire was rekindled on Nov. 5 and was put out. The investigation is ongoing.

Sale of alcohol to minor

Dalana Mahoney, 33, of Antioch was charged with sale of alcohol to a minor and Dan Brylinki, 18, was charged with consumption of alcohol by a minor on Oct. 31 at 12:45 a.m. Brylinki was observed by an officer outside a bar at 882 Main St. and he appeared intoxicated. His breath analysis registered .03. Upon questioning, Brylinki told the officer he drank some of his friend's beer. Mahoney said she observed the minor in the bar, but did not serve him. She was the only bartender on duty, so was charged and released on a recognizance bond.

Disorderly conduct

Charles Miculinich, 21, of Antioch, was charged with disorderly conduct on Nov. 1 at 11:41 p.m. According to reports, the subject swore at the manager of the Taco Bell and insisted on getting another taco. When the manager asked him to leave, he started throwing things around. He was charged and released on a personal recognizance bond and has a court date of Nov. 22 in Grayslake.

Warrant/consumption of alcohol

On Nov. 1 at 1:10 a.m., police observed a suspect in a parking lot at 882 Main St. who was wanted on outstanding warrants for robbery and deceptive practice. When they tried to approach Shane Whipple, 19, of Antioch, he fled. Whipple was apprehended at Orchard and Main. Officers noticed he smelled of alcohol and he registered .06 BAC. Whipple was charged with consumption of alcohol by a minor, was unable to post bond and was transferred to Lake County Jail.

Antioch's Parks Department is under new management

Antioch's very own Parks and Recreation Dept. has a new boss! Well, actually, Cheryl McCameron, the director of the Parks and Recreation Dept., has a new boss. It's in the form of an 8-pound, 15-ounce baby boy named Alex Michael. That's right, folks, Cheryl and her husband Chad finally had their big day on Oct. 23, around 9 p.m. at Condell Hospital. Now, Cheryl, I now that little Alex won't be able to actually speak my tangible sentences for awhile, but believe me, he will certainly be able to shoot the orders around without saying a single word.

Whether you know it or not, you have accepted a job where you get paid diddly, the hours stink (not to mention other aspects of your duties), there are no paid vacations, long lunches are a thing of the past (in fact, hot meals are a thing of the past, period), plus you get the added benefit of knowing that anything that goes wrong for the next 21 years is your fault! Who in their right mind would apply for such a job? Well, Cheryl and Chad, the job is all yours! Good luck on your new career move, and don't expect too much in the line of a Christmas bonus, either, but I can guarantee you'll have plenty of bonuses every day sitting in those little diapers!

It pays to be good

Grass Lake School started a reward program in October in which any student who is "caught being good" is given the opportunity to win some pretty nice prizes. School staff members issue coupons to any student they witness going above and beyond their school duties, such as picking up trash off the playground, helping an injured student (unless, of course, they purposely injured the student) or being extra helpful in the classroom. These coupons are then entered into a weekly drawing, a monthly drawing, and finally a semester drawing.

Now, I have personally seen some of the really nice prizes waiting to be won by some lucky contestants and they are definitely worth the little extra effort. Here is a list of the weekly winners for October: Buddy Hammersley, Brandon Abear,

Dough raising night

Grass Lake School is having their monthly Domino's "Dough Raising" night on Nov. 16. Here's how it works: for every pizza ordered that night, the school receives $1 for delivered pizzas and $2 for pizzas picked up right from the store. All you have to do is give the driver or the store employee the nifty little coupon provided by the PTO and the school gets credit for your purchase.

Now, we will be sending home these coupons with the Grass Lake School children next week, so parents, please check those backpacks. If you don't have a child in the school or next extra coupons, they are available at the front office of the school. The class that buys the most pizzas on that night also wins a free pizza party from Domino's.

Congratulations to Mrs. Bowen's 2/3 Combo Class for being the October winners. So, give mom a break on Nov. 16 and let those efficient folks at Domino's do the cookin'.

Plan ahead

Retirement is a two-fold event for most people. The thought of being able to sleep in every day and stay in your pajamas until noon is rather appealing, but the thought of making ends meet on your pension and social security checks is a bit overwhelming. That is why the good folks at the United Methodist Church will continue their Community Outreach Speaker Program on Nov. 16, at 7 p.m. The topic for this month's presentation will be "Retirement Planning."

For any of you nearing retirement age, this will be an informational seminar on all aspects of financial planning. They will try to make your transition from a weekly paycheck to a monthly paycheck go a little easier, without missing any of the important things in between. The lecture will be held at the Antioch Community Building's Maplethorpe Room at 874 Main St., located next to the Village Hall. All are welcome to attend. There is no need to register in advance and there is no fee required. So, mark your calendar and get prepared to learn how to fill your golden years with a little more gold.

A big "thank you"

On behalf of the little campers at Camp Crayon, the staff would like to thank some very generous people for some very generous toy donations: Sandy Gorsi, Michelle Berry, and Sheila Dvorak.

These three fine moms graciously parted with some really in-good condition toys that could have fetched a pretty penny at a garage sale. The teachers were absolutely thrilled to get the toys, but the kids were absolutely ecstatic! Thanks to you, Sandy, Michelle, and Sheila, play time at camp is a lot more appealing, creative and noisy! And so goes another "Jingle from Pringle." Don't forget to call 395-6364.

Families sought to host Navy recruits

The Recruit Training Command at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center will again permit trainees to spend Thanksgiving with area families. For over 20 years, trainees away from home for the holidays have been permitted to spend the holiday with families or groups who have graciously opened their homes to them. This year, more than 3,000 trainees will be available to take advantage of this hospitality.

This program has been popular both with the trainees and with the host families, although the most obvious benefit is to the trainees. They get to spend the holiday away from the pressures associated with recruit training, enjoy a home-cooked meal, and relax in a family environment. In turn, the host family has the opportunity to learn more about the Navy and recruit training. The host family also has the satisfaction of making the holiday enjoyable for someone else. For many families, hosting Navy recruits has become an important part of their holiday tradition.

Host families must observe a few requirements. First, the recruits may not travel beyond a 50 mile radius of the Naval Training Center at Great Lakes. Trainees must be picked up at the Recruit Training Command between 8 a.m. and 11 a.m. on Thanksgiving morning. They are not allowed to travel on their own. While at the base, host families will fill out a host information sheet so that the trainee may be contacted if necessary. Each family must sign out at least two recruits.

All trainees must be returned to the Recruit Training Command by 8:15 p.m. Thanksgiving evening.

Families interested in this program should contact the Recruit Training Command Public Affairs Office by Friday, Nov. 20 at 688-5670 or 688-2405.

National Children's Book Week slated

National Children's Book Week is Nov. 13 through 19. The theme at the Antioch Public Library Dist. will be "Discover the Reading Rain Forest." Special stories will be read and we will celebrate the week with a party. The "Discover the Reading Rain Forest" party will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 14 at 3:30 p.m. Registration is required. A signer will be made available to children who need communication in sign language. For more information, call 395-0874.

The pumpkins were on display in the bank's lobby "Pumpkin Patch" the week of Oct. 23. Judging of the pumpkins took place on Oct. 28. Judges were Joel Johnson, Sherry Smith and John Horan.

The winners for this year's contest are: First place, Justin Weis; second place, Mike Rizzo; third place, Nick Johnson; honorable mention awards to Zack Johnson, Kiersten Rizzo, Josie Martin, Michael Pollitt and Rebecca Menzer.

Salvation Army basket sign-up begins

The Salvation Army Annual Christmas basket sign-up will be held Nov. 10 from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. and 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. Located at 404 S. Buttrick St., Waukegan. All applicants must have picture ID (driver's license/State ID); proof of income (paystub, medical card, award letter, etc.); proof of children (medical card, school ID/records, birth certificate, social security card); proof of address (utility bill, medical card, etc.).

The Salvation Army provides a Christmas basket for the less fortunate families in the Lake County area. Families are provided with a Christmas holiday meal and gifts for their children up to the age of 12. All this is provided by the generous hearts of donors who donated through out the year. Also through the Salvation Army Christmas appeal and ket-

NICASA official wins prevention award

Laurel Dahl, prevention administrator of the Northern Illinois Council on Alcoholism and Substance Abuse (NICASA) and president of the Antioch Community High School board, has received the "Enrique Camarena, One Person Can Make a Difference Award."

The award was presented to Dahl during the Oct. 25 annual Red Ribbon Celebration rally at the Lake County Courthouse, Waukegan.

Presented on behalf of the Red Ribbon Celebration committee by Jennifer Johnson of Prevention Services/InTouch, the award salutes Dahl for embodying the spirit of prevention in a way that has made a significant difference in Lake County.

"Her honesty, integrity, patience, compassion and energy have been an inspiration," Johnson said. "Her passion for promoting prevention and the welfare of families and children in the community is striking. She has been an active participant in the Antioch Community High School board, and influential in establishing many programs within the school."

"She has also been the key to the success of the Drug Education for Youth Program (DEFY), through the Navy and Marines. She has been participating in Operation Snowball and Snowflakes for several years and is certified as a Code Red trainer for the National Family Partnership."

Dahl was cited for her work as NICASA's prevention administrator and her work with the Lake County Big Brothers/Big Sisters program and Warren Township Assisting Youth's (WAY) community partnership advisory committee.

Judy Fried, NICASA's executive director, said Dahl is most deserving of the award.

"I'm thrilled because she's the type of person who never talks about all that she's doing," Fried said. "She's so unpretentious and is always willing to roll up her sleeves and do what's needed. We're so pleased she's a part of NICASA's family."

Dahl said she was pleased and honored to receive the award. "It's wonderful to know we're having an impact not only on youth and parents but on all elements of the community." Committed to promoting a healthy, drug-free lifestyle, Dahl said, "You can't turn prevention on and off. Prevention becomes the way you live—the way you are."

She said her efforts at NICASA enhance her work with Antioch Community High School district where she has been president of the school board for several years. "It's easy to continue the prevention feeling I have when I leave the office at the end of the day," Dahl said.

Mary Cusker, program director of Goodwill Industries of Lake County, nominated Dahl for the award.

Cusker said she is especially impressed by Dahl's passion for promoting prevention and the welfare of families. "She inspires this passion in countless meetings, trainings and events throughout Lake County and mobilizes individuals and organizations to healthy change."

Also receiving an Enrique Camarena Award at the Red Ribbon Celebration were Regina Grimes and Shannon Friolone.

Grimes directs the Unique Steppers program at Central Junior High in Zion. She was cited for her "unselfish dedication of time and energy" to the program, a 50-member drill team that fosters positive relationships among the girls and teaches teamwork through rigorous collective training.

Friolone, a junior at Grayslake High School, was honored for her winning essay on the dangers of drug abuse. Citing drug use as "probably the most important social pitfall faced by young people today," she contends that fighting the problem "is everyone's own war. And it is one everyone can do something about. It is a war we can win with the simplest of weapons—a single word. The word is no. Why not take the alternative of drug use like I do—the alternative of enjoying life to the fullest without drugs."

Holiday cards will aid NICASA's center

The Women's Board of the Northern Illinois Council on Alcoholism and Substance Abuse (NICASA) is selling holiday and assorted "Feeling Good" greeting cards featuring artwork by children of clients at the Women and Children's center, 2031 Dugdale Ave., North Chicago.

Proceeds from sale of the cards will benefit the center. Cindy Simmons, program vice president, said a set of 12 attractive cards can be purchased for $15. The cards were designed by Diana Deterding, president of Dymar Agency, Inc., Gurnee, and administrative vice president of the Women's Board.

To obtain an order form for the "Feeling Good" holiday and assorted greeting cards, phone NICASA at 546-6450.

Parents group learns 'Kids worth it:' Coloroso

A group of area parents heard a multi-faceted parenting approach from Dr. Barbara Coloroso, a parenting expert from Colorado.

Coloroso spoke of her six tenets of parenting but also stressed to parent not according to the experts, but according to your own philosophy.

"Parents tell me, 'look at this kid, he or she was such a good kid and now look at them.' Nothing has changed. He is just listening to someone else. Instead of you, he is listening to his peers," Coloroso told the audience at O'Plaine School.

Coloroso said her talk to parents is designed to "irritate them and present ways to get kids to think and solve a problem they created. We need to take a critical look at decisions you take and the decisions you give to your kids. You can read books, attend workshops and hear experts — anyone from more than 100 miles away — but balance that off the kind of stuff you know," she said.

Parents learned Coloroso's belief that discipline and punishment are totally different.

Punishment is: adult oriented; requires judgment; imposes power from without; arouses anger and resentment and invites more conflict.

Discipline, on the other hand, shows children what they did wrong; gives them ownership of the problem; gives them ways to solve the problems they created; leaves their dignity intact.

Parents were encouraged to live by the African proverb, "it takes a village to raise a child."

"We must be committed to every child in this community. The nuclear family is not gone, but our parents and grandparents had the extended family and its support," she said.

The six critical life messages Coloroso, a Littleton, Colo. based parenting expert, said, are: I believe in you; I trust in you; I know you can handle it; You are cared for and You are very important to me.

She described three alternatives to a 'no' answer as: give kids responsibility; give me a minute and convince me.

She also gave a presentation to Gurnee District 56 teaching staff as part of a teacher institute day last week. Gurnee Park District helped sponsor her visit.

ACHS receives positive marks

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

Antioch Community High School's state report card, for the most part, showed overall improvement at the school. Most significantly, the attendance numbers were up from prior years and the average class sizes continue to drop.

Attendance for the 1994-1995 school year is reported at 93 percent. This is an increase over the past three years, when attendance was steady at 91 percent. And, so far this year, the school is reporting an even higher attendance rate.

Changes in school policy and community communication are being credited for the improvements. "We are close to 95 percent attendance now," said Assistant Principal Mick Torres. "Our new policies have helped clear up some of the confusion of past years and we have a 24-hour attendance line now."

Average class size, which is the average number of students in a given class has dropped in the past few years, although it is still higher than state averages. The average class size for 1994-1995 is 20.8 at ACHS. This is down from 22.5 in 1993-1993 school year and 21.1 in 1993-1994. The state average this year is 19.9.

Undoubtedly, one of the more startling numbers on the report card is the graduation rate. In 1991-1992 ACHS reported a graduation rate of 98.5 percent. This year's report card shows an 81.3 percent graduation rate.

"This does not truly reflect our graduation rate," said Torres. "Of our 371 seniors last year, 362 graduated." Basing graduation rates on the number of seniors gives ACHS a 97 percent graduation rate. "To me, that is our graduation rate."

However, the rates, as mandated by the state, are calculated on the basis of the number of freshmen in a given year and the number of those freshmen who actually graduate from ACHS. In the 1995 graduating class, 431 students entered the

"Our overall mobility is outflux," said Torres. "If our mobility was influx, we could, theoretically, have a graduation rate average of over 100 percent."

Torres said the method of calculating graduation rates is a concern of many school districts. He worries, those coming into the community and checking out the school could get a false impression. School officials and administrators met recently at the DuPage County Courthouse in a seminar regarding state school report cards. Torres said many attending voiced concerns about graduation rate reporting.

ACHS tenth grade Illinois Goal Assessment Program (IGAP) scores dropped in all areas: reading, mathematics and writing. Eleventh grade science was up 3.6 points and social science was up 2.3 points.

Regarding the fluctuations, Torres said, The tests don't change much from year to year. But, the students do change.

More students took the American College Testing (ACT) exam in the 1994-1995 school year at ACHS. Students who completed a core high school program, which includes four years of English and at least three years of math, social studies and natural sciences saw .1 percent decrease in their scores from the year before. Conversely, the average ACT score this reporting period for all students at ACHS, both core and non-core increased by .1 percent.

Veterans' service fair provides information

The North Chicago VA Medical Center, in conjunction with the Lake County Vets organization and other community service providers, will be hosting a Veterans' Service Fair on Friday, Nov. 17. The fair will provide homeless, indigent veterans an opportunity to receive job counseling and assistance, veterans' benefits information, resource information from other private and public sources, and medical staff will be available to provide physicals.

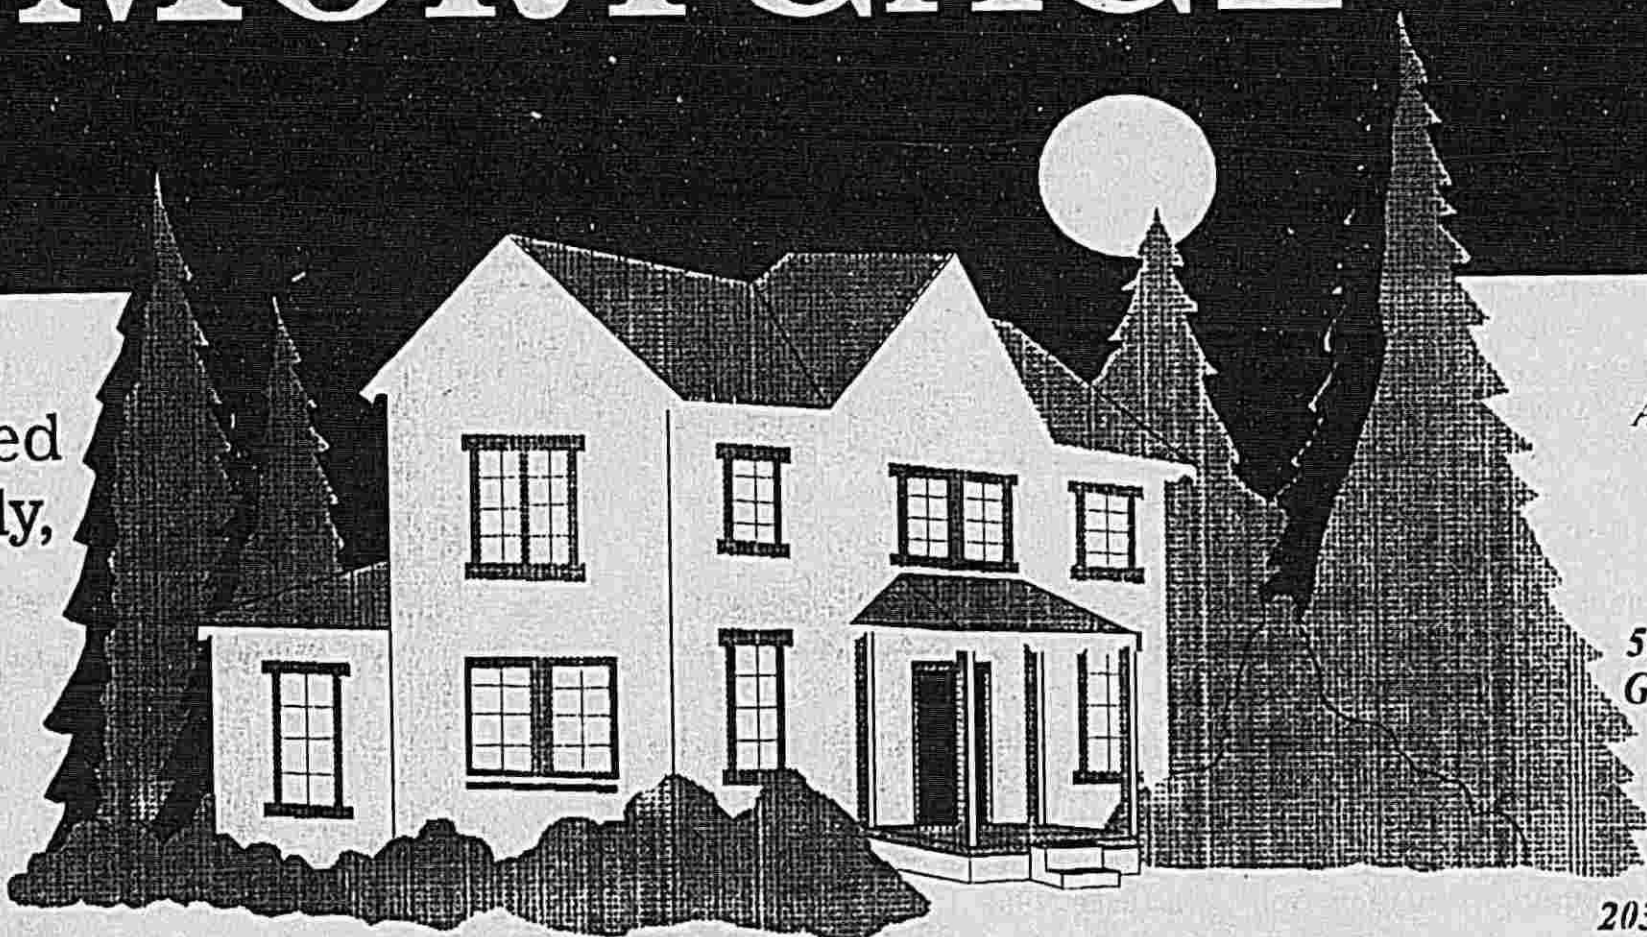

Approximately six out of every 10 homeless veterans participating in community-based programs end up no longer being homeless. "Our goal is to provide whatever assistance necessary to get our homeless veterans on their own two feet. Attaining that goal may require immediate medical attention for the vet, assistance with housing and other veterans' benefits, and resume and job coaching," said A.S. Pate, Medical Center director.

Two to three-hundred pounds of silt will be removed from Trevor Creek by the end of next week when the Fox Waterway Agency completes its project clearing the area for boaters. Here the land-based backhoe hauls some silt from the site.—Photo by Linda Chapman

Agency clears Trevor Creek, other areas

A backhoe can be seen at the north end of Lake Catherine on Trevor Creek for the next week, and boaters are expected to benefit from it.

Fox Waterway Agency workers began dredging the creek last week after concerns from residents and officials were evident. Dr. William Dam, Agency chairman, said during the summer he toured the entire Chain O' Lakes to study the boatways.

When he came upon the Trevor Creek area, Dam said it was "awful looking" and needed some care. Boaters had trouble getting to and from the area as well.

Some of the residents were apparently angry about the situation, but by the time Dr. Dam left, after explaining the Agency would clean up the site, they were pleased.

In fact Dam said some residents even volunteered to allow their property to be used by trucks to get to the silt piles dredged up. Trucks are also needed for the project, and more homeowners to donate their water access would help the Agency complete the project, said the chairman.

The Agency recently finished improving access near the Route 173 bridge, which Dam says is a good example of maximizing waterways with the use of the dredge.

Next week, the Agency will be dredging under Burton's Bridge and the following project will be installing geotextile tubes on Nippersink Creek.

"We're gonna keep working till it freezes over," explained Chairman Dam.—by TINA L. SWIECH

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

There were a number of speakers at the Antioch VFW Post's 50th Anniversary Dinner. Ralph Gussarson, the post's historian, recounted the stormy history of the post to the over 100 guests attending the dinner.

"We had our first meetings at St. Ignatius Church," said Gussarson. "We then moved to the State Bank of Antioch, and then the First National Bank. We had no money."

The post was started by 53 veterans back in October of 1945. "Fifty-three of us signed a little piece of paper (the original charter)," explained Gussarson. "Only five of us are still living."

Jack H. Crandall, Otto H.

Gussarson, Ralph Gussarson, Francis O. Hunt, and Norman B. Edwards are the only living charter members. Four of them were able to attend the gala.

After meeting at various banks and members' basements, Post 4551 made its first attempt at purchasing a building. "We were offered 3.5 acres, at $300 a month. He (the owner) would help us build the building. We went bottom-up," said Gussarson.

The members did not give up after losing the first building and went back to raffles and carnivals in an effort to raise money. Post 4551 then went into business for itself at the Tarfu Club in Loon Lake. "We went into that too. That didn't last too long," continued Gussarson.

The post moved into the back of the old Moose Building on Main Street after the Tarfu Club business failed. "We did not have enough business to pay the mortgage," said Gussarson. "We went back to the basements of different members."

Post members then began raffling off items donated to them, such as cars, and the post began making money again. "We got some backers and bought the auction barn (in 1980)," Gussarson told the audience. "We got the building, you are sitting in it now. We put in a bar and started Bingo."

According to Gussarson, the weekly Bingo games turned the tide for the financially strapped post. "Bingo was good," he quipped.

While Senator Adeline Geo-Karis was unable to attend the gala because of a prior commitment, she did send a letter which was read. In addition, Geo-Karis gave the post a state flag of Illinois "to hang proudly in front of your post."

Antioch Mayor Marilyn Shineflug spoke briefly of the village's appreciation of the community spirit and efforts of Post 4551. She discussed the new veterans memorial.

"The tank memorial will be a permanent reminder of your dedication," said Shineflug. She also told the group the village is in the process of making a special plaque to honor the 50th anniversary.

While most of the event was light hearted, there were some somber moments in the ceremony. "I'm not worried about the next fifty years. In the next fifty years I just hope there is no more VFW," said Walter Kuck, Fifth District Judge Advocate. "We don't want any veterans of foreign wars. We don't want to see any more wars."

Chief of Staff of the POW/MIA Richard L. Kutz gave a moving speech about those soldiers who did not return and the state of veteran affairs.

"You were a member of the greatest fighting forces in the world. Today, many of you need help and are turned away from veteran hospitals. Worst of all, we left some of them behind," said Kutz.

"There must be a full accounting of all our POW/MIAs," Kutz told the group. He extolled the audience to become involved in efforts for those lost soldiers. "We have only one thing going for our POW/MIAs. A 32 cent stamp. And, they will not advertise our stamp."

Kutz then asked for a moment of silence while he read the "Remembrance Prayer." An empty table was set at the dinner, with five empty seats to symbolize the branches of the service of those veterans who were unable to be there.

Werchek said she is especially concerned with the high school because she has three children attending Antioch Community High School.

Jacobs campaigned for providing quality education, but making sure spending needs are justified.

Koziorowski, a former Antioch trustee, said he wanted to vote for educational options first hand. He is the president of Sequoit Pride and has a daughter attending the high school.

Even though Lake Villa Township candidates lost, Larry Peterson, a board member of three years, still provides representation from the Lake Villa Township area.

"I don't know how to interpret the results," said Board President Laurel Dahl. "I don't know if the people really knew where the candidates come from."

Dahl added she met with all the candidates before the election. She stressed that they are serving the entire district area, and they should do what is best for the district even if they personally may not approve of an issue.

Gooch likely to lead 'O', but defense has holes

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

And the patchwork begins.
After finishing 4-5 on the year, the Antioch High football team found itself watching three conference foes competing in the playoffs.

Three of Antioch's five losses came against teams who advanced to the playoffs, including Libertyville, Stevenson and Lake Forest. Whitney Young, who Antioch handily defeated in a non-conference contest, also qualified for the first round only to be smashed by Stevenson.

"We had good kids who played as well as they could," said Coach Del Pechauer. "We were just missing a few players at times that would have made a difference in a few games."

But Pechauer began looking ahead to next year. With the loss of two-year starter Walter Martens, sophomore sensation Dave Gooch will likely pick up the reins as the first-string quarterback.

Gooch, who was injured for five games, found playing time as receiver and defensive back. As a freshman, Gooch broke school records in track, indicating he has plenty of speed to bring to the Antioch wishbone offense.

"He made a couple of great catches," Pechauer said. "He's got some speed and he can throw the ball."

But with outgoing John Migalla and Jim Groth, Pechauer finds an immediate need to fill the fullback position. Joe Day is the only back returning with some experience.

"We're looking for a fullback," Pechauer said quite simply.

His offensive worries ease a little bit, however, with four offensive linemen returning next year. Jeff Bringer, Brian Dembinski, Kyle Wisniewski and Jason Ultes will all be returning to the trenches a year older and a little bigger.

Center Dan Wiegel might find himself in the tight end slot. "He's a good blocker and he has good hands," Pechauer said.

On the defense, Pechauer will have many holes to fill on the line and as linebacker. Mike Duggan will anchor the defensive line. Pechauer has some confidence with the defensive backfield with Gooch, Pat Ewert and Brian Forth returning.

Linebacker is another story. The loss of two-time All-Conference linebacker Jason Breen leaves the middle up for grabs. Stuart Johnson is the only returner.

"We'll need some help from the sophomores," Pechauer said. The sophomores had a productive year, finishing 5-3.

Some prospects include Reggie Hughes as end, Brandon Polheber as running back, Eric Vos on the defensive line, and Jeff Ultes and Mike Morrissey as linebackers.

This year may not have been the best, but there is always the proverbial next year.

Vikings lightweights gain 3rd straight title

The Grayslake Colts Lightweight football team gave two-time defending champ Antioch all it could handle for one half of football in the championship game.

But the Vikings played inspired football in both the third and fourth quarters to capture their third straight conference championship with a 20-2 victory over Grayslake.

It was Antioch's 29th straight win in the Junior Football League of Northern Illinois as the Vikings "three-peated" consecutive titles.

Coach Rick Motley credited the team's season-long work ethic during practice for the season's success.

"The kids worked hard for it. They came to practice everyday and they earned it," Motley said. "Out of 25 kids on the team, at least 23 would show up for practice. All the kids were there ready to hit and ready to be hit."

A defensive battle highlighted the first half of play as neither team could get closer than each other's 15 yardline. Seventy yards in penalties also killed Antioch's chances to mount a successful scoring drive.

With 3:23 remaining in the half, the Vikings were forced to punt from their own endzone. A bad snap produced a Grayslake safety and the Colts held a 2-0 lead at intermission.

"They (Colts) gave us a pretty tough first half," admitted Motley. "They play a nice solid defense."

But the second half was all Antioch.

Early in the third quarter, the Vikings went 63 yards to score their first touchdown on a 5-yard See LIGHTS Page A13

Antioch heavys triumph in championship game

A nail biter until the end.

With the two best varsity teams in the Junior Football League of Northern Illinois going head to head in the championship match, it only seemed fitting that the outcome was settled in overtime.

The Antioch Vikings Heavyweight squad survived an 8-0 half-time deficit to triumph 16-14 over rival Warren.

"It was just a phenomenal finish," remarked Vikings assistant coach Tom Shaughnessy. "We scored, kicked the extra point and won the game."

With the game tied 8-8, both teams had four chances to score from the 10 yardline.

On a strange flea-flicker play, Warren's Josh Gray hit Dave Mohr for a 10-yard touchdown strike on a do-or-die fourth down situation. Warren's 2-point kick was inches wide.

On Antioch's turn to break the tie, quarterback Brandon Clutts crossed the goal line on a 2-yard sneak—again on fourth down. Clutts found the hole behind the blocking of Lucas Denoma, Matt Greene and Brian Cornelius.

"They don't push that in, and the game is over," noted Brent Gandolfi, Antioch defensive coordinator.

The touchdown tied the game 14 up, leaving kicker Quinn Gooch to play hero. Gooch booted the two-point kick to decide the championship.

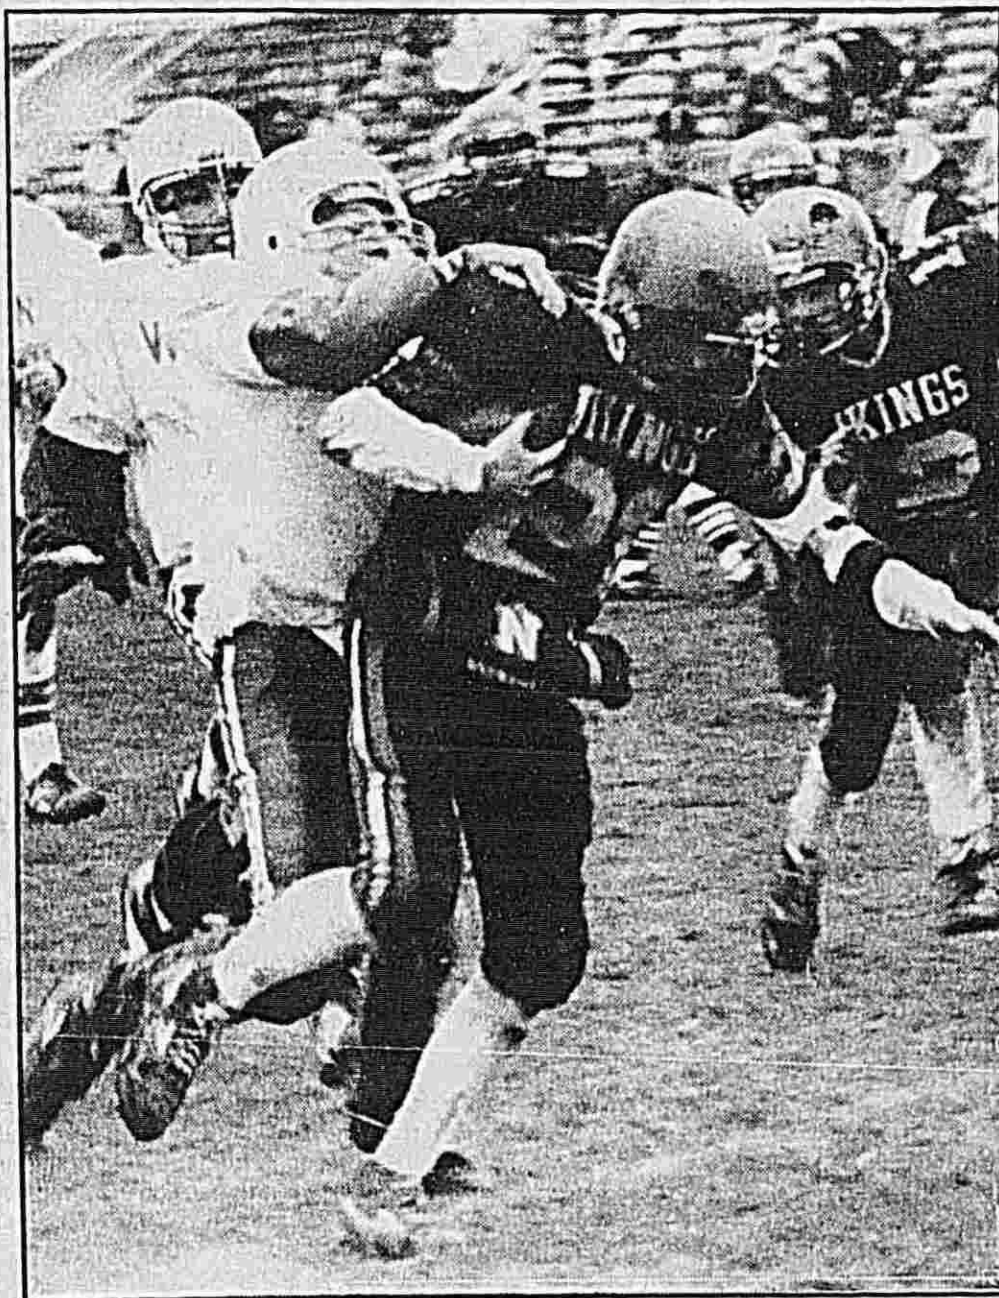

The victory preserved Antioch's undefeated season and continued the Vikings reign of the heavyweight crown.

"The proud tradition is carried on," said Shaughnessy, referring to the 25th anniversary of the Antioch Vikings.

The win did not come easy, however.

"We went toe-to-toe for the first quarter until Warren broke free on a 50-yard bomb with 50 seconds remaining in the half," Gandolfi said.

Blitz claim division title, Rockers remain unbeaten

Blitz

The Lindenhurst Blitz concluded their outdoor season this weekend with two victories. With an impressive record of 9-0-1, the Blitz are the U-19 Yellow Division champions.

Saturday's game took place in Glen Ellyn with the Blitz winning by a score of 4-1 over the Lakers.

Allison Earl had a big game, scoring three times with assists from Sondra Lorang (two) and Becca Bleyer (one). Bleyer also scored one goal with an assist from Elly Elfering.

On Sunday in Crystal Lake, the Northwest United Cyclones found themselves totally dominated by the Blitz, losing by the score of 7-1.

Earl again led the scoring, this time finding net four times. There were single tallies by Rachel Cashman, Nichole Wright and Elfering. Assists were awarded to Lorang (four) and Amie Carlberg (two).

The U-19 Champion Lindenhurst Blitz are: Stacey Alberts, Bleyer, Carlberg, Rachel Cashman, Jill Denoma, Earl, Elfering, Carrie Gofron, Melissa Helbig, Katie Hoskins, Nicki Kral, Lorang, Erin Nowak, Susan Woodruff, Nichole Wright and Tami Wright. The Blitz coaches are Scott Bleyer and Carol Wright. The Blitz is trained by Ron Wetzel.

Power

The Lindenhurst U-15 Power traveled to Elmhurst and came home with a 3-0 victory for their effort.

Jamie Wismer opened the scoring just two minutes into the contest after some nice passing between Sarah Richardson and Kristen Hungarland spread out the Elmhurst defense.

Kristen Gamlin later took a pass from Cara Robinson and tallied the second goal, which deflected off an Elmhurst defender.

Teri LaRoche got the insurance goal with assists going to Richardson and Wismer.

The Power defense of Lauren Beatty, Nicci Estep, Jourdan Phillips, Jenny Porter and Esther Scheurer played well, earning their fifth straight shutout. The Power is now 8-0-1 in IWSL play.

Rockers

The U-11 Rockers defeated visiting Lake Forest 1-0 in a battle of undefeated teams.

The action was end-to-end with the Rockers scoring the only goal early in the second half and holding off a furious attack in the last five minutes to preserve the victory.

The goaltending duo of Kristina Gopp and Lauren Cole shared the shutout with several key saves.

Rockets

The Lindenhurst U-10 Rockets posted their ninth shutout of the season with a 5-0 victory over the Northbrook Spartans.

Nice passing between Callie Check and Lissa Coby set Tina Washburn up for the opening goal.

Moments later, Calla Myslinski connected with Annie Hovey on the left side for the game's second goal. Coby and Kacie Anderson were credited with the game's third and fourth goals after both sent balls toward the goal that deflected off Northbrook players and into the net.

Megan Placko scored early in the second half when Northbrook was unable to clear the ball on their goalie's punt.

Excellent defensive play by the entire Rocket defense once again turned away the Northbrook offense. Northbrook was held to only one shot on goal for the game. Other players turning in outstanding performances were Michelle Marturano, Becky McBrady and Kristen Gagne.

Turbos

The Lindenhurst Turbos (Boys U-13) ended the fall season on a high note with a 3-0 shutout of rival Honenegah Lions—a team they had never beaten.

This was the third shutout in a row for the Turbos.

Jeff Prorok opened the scoring, taking a pass from Steve Colletti. The next score came as Prorok's shot was stopped by the goalie who gave a rebound to Matt Peterson for the goal.

Late in the second half the Turbos sealed the victory as Adam Schuster's corner kick was headed by Prorok to Sean O'Neill, who directed it into the net.

Strong midfield play was turned in by Kieran Moran, Andy Murphy and Danny Blagojevic. Colletti made several goal-saving plays on defense and Jason Myers was outstanding in the goal.

Soccer star

Bill Johnson of the Antioch High soccer team was named "Athlete of the Week" by First Chicago Bank and Thelen Sand & Gravel. Johnson's stunning offensive and defensive efforts helped the Sequoias advance to the second round of the playoffs. Rose Steinburg and Brad Wilson joined Johnson as First Chicago Bank and Thelen Gravel make a donation to the school scholarship fund in the name of Johnson.

Mohr found Gray deep for the touchdown.

The Warren defense also frustrated Antioch in the first half by creating four turnovers, five over-all.

"We lost the ball four times, but our defense kept Warren from scoring," Shaughnessy said.

He added, "The Warren kids played a very good game. It was really like a chess match between the two coaches."

Gooch proved to be the hero before he connected on the game-winning point-after kick.

The star running back tied the game in regulation by scoring on a 45-yard bolt through defenders.

"He broke about nine tackles and carried two more kids into the end zone. It was unbelievable," Gandolfi said.

There were many other unsung heroes.

Chris Vanderkooy pulled double time on both sides of the ball. "He did a very good job blocking and causing havoc on the defense," Shaughnessy said.

Brian Harris, Ron Nissan, George Girtan and Brandon Franke played solid games on defense. Conrad Adkins also had a big hit in overtime.

On offense, Franke demonstrated his desire to play after he completed a 20-yard sweep, was knocked out of bounds, and slammed into the bench. "He just willed himself back into the game," Gandolfi said.

Will and desire are probably the two best adjectives to describe the heavyweight team as the Vikings were out-numbered by a larger Warren team.

"We were outmatched," Gandolfi said. "The kids just went out there and did it."

Antioch seniors make All-Conference

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

Three Antioch High football standouts finished their careers being named All-Conference selection in the mighty North Suburban Conference.

The threesome includes full-back John Migalla, quarterback Walter Martens and linebacker Jason Breen.

Migalla, a 6'2" 225-pound senior, was called to duty whenever the Sequoits needed a 4- to 5-yard pickup. He ran for nine touchdowns and carried the ball 100 times for 540 yards.

"He gave us a threat, and the opposing defenses had to respect him," commented Coach Del Pechauer. "When he hit people, they went forward and so did he."

Antioch benefited from a barrage of running backs including the speedy Jim Groth and Ajredin Elez, but it was Migalla Antioch went to when the Sequoits needed the tough yardage.

"It would have been nice to have a 1,000-yard rusher, but we had four different backs we went to, but John was our leading ball carrier," Pechauer said.

For the past two years, Martens collected the snaps and orchestrated Antioch's no-huddle, wishbone offense to a tee.

When he chose to hang on to the ball, Martens gathered 400 yards running on 95 carries and crossed the goal line three times.

"He did an excellent job executing the option," Pechauer said. "There were times when he faked us out." Antioch is not known for its passing game, but in the passing department, Martens completed 29 passes for 423 yards and threw three more touchdown receptions.

"When we had to throw the ball, Walter was able to get the ball there," Pechauer said.

As a three-year starting varsity linebacker, Breen left his mark on quite a few opposing running backs.

"If there was a tackle made, Jason was around it somewhere," Pechauer remarked.

Breen finished the year with an even 100 tackles, including 60 solos. He also had two sacks, one interception and two knock-downs.

"He was aggressive and he could hit," Pechauer said. "We pretty much let him Jason go free. He could read the offense really well."

This was Breen's second All-Conference selection as well as his second consecutive All-County nomination.

All three seniors will complete their Antioch High School athletic careers in other sports—Migalla in track, Martens in club volleyball, and Breen in wrestling.

run by Adam Niles. Quarterback Mark Purnell converted the extra point for a 7-2 lead.

The Viking defense led by the likes of defensive specialists Chris Rogalla (6 tackles), Pat Swanson (6 tackles), and Eldon Rivelli (1 interception, 4 tackles) shutdown Grayslake.

A 48-yard march was capped by Rivelli scoring from 14 yards. Purnell added the extra point to give Antioch the 14-2 edge.

"We had pretty good leadership from Mark Purnell," Motley said. "He can run the offense really well."

Niles concluded the scoring when he found paydirt on a 11-yard run.

Motley credited the offensive line of Nick Kocinski, Jarrod Lewis, Chris Kocinski, Jarrod Ponce, Luke Larson, Joe Kennedy and Nick Balen for providing the holes which led to 290 yards of offense.

"The line did a great job all year," Motley said. "They learned right from the beginning to get off the ball quick. They also learned a lot of specialized blocking. They thrived on the chance to pull."

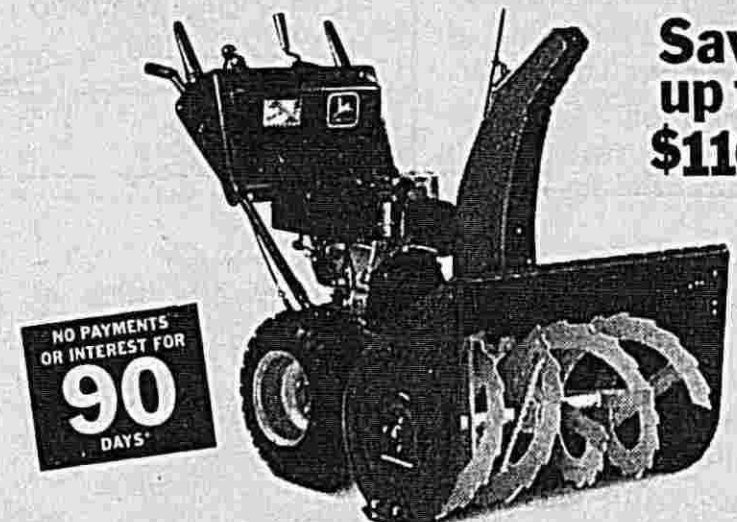

Leading the offensive charge was Rivelli with 120 yards, 15 carries and a TD. Niles scored two TDs and rushed for 74 yards. Mike Smith totaled 77 yards on just 4 carries. Brad Groth had 11 yards, including a key 9-yard run to keep the drive alive to set up the second score.

"In the second half, I think our boys just wanted it more," Motley said. "They came out and took it to them."

Overall, the Viking offense averaged close to 30 points per game while allowing an average of 3 points per game.

The team, along with coaches Motley, John Balen, Dane Anderson and Denny Porter, will officially accept their championship trophies Friday night.

They eat nothing but frosted flakes.

First National to offer voter registration at area branches

The First National Bank of Chicago and the Lake County Clerk's office are teaming up to offer residents an opportunity to register to vote at the bank's Lake County branches.

"We at First Chicago believe in being good corporate citizens. Sometimes that means we have to take a leadership role in helping others be good citizens, too," said Thomas Chana, senior vice president and head of First Chicago's branches in the near west, northwest, and north suburban suburbs.

"Taking advantage of our right to vote is an important part of that. We're happy to team with the Lake County Clerk's office to make the process easier for eligible residents."

Participating First Chicago branches are in Antioch at 425 Lake St., Highland Park at 850 Central Ave., and Lake Zurich at 400 S. Old Rand Rd.

Voter's registration forms can be obtained in the branch lobbies or through the drive-through service. To register, individuals must be United States citizens, at least 18 years old on or before the next election, have residency status in one election precinct at least 39 days prior to the next election, be neither convicted nor in jail, and not claim the right to vote anywhere else.

Completed forms should be mailed or delivered to the Lake County Clerk's office in Waukegan. Residents should receive their voter's card within two weeks.

The First National Bank of Chicago, the tenth largest bank in the country, has more than 80 branches throughout the Chicago metropolitan area providing leading edge banking products and services to retail and business customers. It is a subsidiary of First Chicago Corp., which plans to complete its announced merger of equals with NBD Bancorp by the end of the year.

Location—

From page A1 representatives of the Lake Villa Chrysler dealership were unable to reach a final agreement regarding the lease-purchase terms," said Mayor Marilyn Shineflug. "The village is working on an alternative location for the dealership, as they are still interested in moving to Antioch."

The new dealership was to encompass roughly 17,000 to 18,000 square feet on a 6-acre parcel of land. The entire proposed parcel of land was actually 60 acres but there were some wetlands on the parcel reducing the amount of buildable land. According to village officials, no wetlands were to be disturbed where the dealership was expected to be built.

Residents of Little Silver Lake, the unincorporated area which borders the original site, voiced some concerns last year.

The owner of the originally proposed parcel is Terry Upton, owner of Upton Properties of Evanston. Upton, who has developed several shopping center sites and owns an auto dealership in Evanston, will be developing the property.

At this time, no new site has been located.

The Lake Villa dealership has been in the Lake Villa location for seven years under current ownership. Before that, the dealership was called Tucker and Sons, and pictures date that dealership back to before 1910.

When asked why they had decided to move, Bach said in an earlier interview, "We feel it is a good market for us." The Lake Villa dealers have experienced considerable growth in sales and service, with no room for expansion at the current location. As a result of their expansion needs, several locations had been considered before the Antioch site was chosen.

Bach and Lesser also own a dealership in Waukegan which will remain open. The new name for the dealership, after the move from Lake Villa will be Paul Bach Lake County Chrysler, Plymouth, Jeep, Eagle West.

Lachner to seek retiring Barkhausen's senate seat

RHONDA HETRICK BURKE
Editor In Chief

Senator David N. Barkhausen has made it official; he will not seek reelection to the Illinois General Assembly. The veteran lawmaker is leaving after nearly 16 years on the job.

Newcomer State Rep. Tom Lachner (R-59th) will be a candidate for the job. Lachner of Lake Bluff is in his first term in the State House of Representatives.

Barkhausen cited his support for citizen legislature, family commitments, personal business goals and a "sense of accomplishment," as his reason for not planning to run for another term in the senate.

"While the unusual opportunity to serve in the Republican-controlled state government in the last year has raised my job satisfaction to an all-time high, there are far more compelling reasons not to run again," Barkhausen said. "As fortunate as I've been and as grateful as I am to have served this long, that length of time begins to contradict my own strong belief in the concept of the 'citizen-legislator' — who commits to a period of public service, but whose primary identity is formed by a career and other life experiences outside of politics."

Barkhausen says he is leaving the General Assembly with a "sense of accomplishment." He points to landmark tort reform and school reform, especially for Chicago, as legislation which he long-supported.

He was the only official to have run for office at both ends of the state without running for statewide office. In 1976, fresh out of the first Southern Illinois University Law School class, Barkhausen managed to capture 47 percent of the vote in an area which was predominately Democratic by a 2 to 1 margin. He defeated the incumbent state representative in the primary to win his first Lake County election in 1980.

During his tenure Barkhausen has been the chief sponsor of most of the DUI laws enacted over the past 15 years and has worked to strengthen criminal laws, preserve natural areas and open spaces and been a chief spokesman for measures to improve workers and unemployment compensation laws and to lessen the burden of employment litigation.

Barkhausen

Lachner is a small businessman and former school board president in Lake Bluff who believes Barkhausen's retirement is an opportunity to take the issues he is working on to the Senate.

"I've been reasonably effective in the House in my first term," Lachner said.

Lachner hopes to continue to raise awareness of the need to stop unfunded state mandates, an issue he grappled with as a school board president. He also sees crime and gangs as See SENATE page B2

GOP budget bill could impact veteran's health care

RHONDA HETRICK BURKE
Editor In Chief

During a year in which the nation is commemorating the 50th anniversary of World War II, the subject of funding for veterans' health care has become a partisan football in the battle to balance the budget.

According to the Department of Veterans Affairs, hundreds of thousand of veterans may lose access to health care under proposed changes in the Medicare and Medicaid programs now advancing through Congress.

Republican leaders, however, say the proposed budget balancing legislation does not actually cut Medicaid or Medicare but slows down the rate of increase per year. Furthermore, the change in the program provides senior citizens with health care options such as choosing an Health Management Organization, Preferred Provider Option, Medisave account or medical IRA in addition to the current program.

"Under the legislation an individual's entitlement to Medicare will actually increase from $4,800 per recipient to $6,700 per recipient by the year 2000," said Congressman John Porter (R-10th). "What is being cut or changed is the historic rate of increase in the program annually. That rate is being slowed."

According to study results announced by the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) and Health and Human Services (HHS), more than 600,000 veterans are enrolled in Medicaid, which is granted based on low income levels, and fewer than 100,000 of them currently receive their care from VA. Under the House proposal to block grant the program and reduce federal Medicaid spending by $182 billion, as many as 172,000 veterans could lose their Medicaid coverage by the year 2002.

Veterans Affairs officials say the story is similar for veterans who depend on Medicare as their health care lifeline. Medicare is the nation's health care system for senior citizens. According to the department's analysis, if Medicare cost sharing is increased as in the Congressional budget reconciliation bills, more than 400,000 veterans may find it financially necessary to try to use VA health care, an option which likely will not be available.

"Medicare and Medicaid represent the health care safety net in this country," said Kathy Jurado, assistant secretary for public and intergovernmental affairs at the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs in Washington D.C. "The VA should be able to pick up veterans who have difficulty gaining access to medical care if these changes are made law, but the VA is also facing funding cuts and may not be able to serve these veterans."

Congressman Phil Crane (R-Dist. 8) agrees the issue is becoming a political football.

"Under the GOP proposal, veteran spending actually increases," said Crane. "I support the changes to Medicare and Medicaid because they are needed to balance the budget. Medicare will go bankrupt if the rate of increase continues as it has in the past."

One area of concern to both the Veterans Administration and to Congressman Porter is the shifting of Medicaid to the states through block grants.

"If you look specifically at Illinois, the Congressional proposal will reduce federal Medicaid funding in Illinois by $6.1 billion by See BILL page B2

Waukegan Sunrise hopes to bring new day to downtown

RHONDA HETRICK BURKE
Editor In Chief

A new day is dawning in Waukegan.

Armed with Bert Stitt, a veteran consultant known for turning cities around, Waukegan Sunrise, a grassroots group, believes they have discovered the keys to revitalizing the county seat.

"We are committed to involving citizens in the development of a new sense of community action and spirit through the implementation of a complete planning process for the renewal and revitalization of downtown Waukegan," states the promotional literature.

"The business of making downtowns work requires an incredible amount of effort," said Stitt. "You have to be willing to look at options. It is the responsibility of the whole community."

Stitt says downtowns need to establish anchors other than retail establishments.

"Waukegan now has three colleges in the downtown area, they may be the anchors for downtown." The College of Lake County just opened their $4.3 million expanded 36,000 square foot Lakeshore Campus which joins Aurora University and Shimer College in the downtown area.

"The condition of a downtown is not the responsibility of City Hall," Stitt told the standing room only crowd at Madison Avenue kick-off breakfast. "We must have a partnership between city and private sector. This is not just a public relations campaign."

Stitt has lent his expertise to the cities of Sheboygan, Wis. and St. Charles, Ill., both of who have undergone transformation during the past several years. He was also instrumental in working with the Village of Antioch in the late-1980s.

Coffee Masters keeps brewing

TINA SWIECH

Staff Reporter

Executives of a Lakemoor's Coffeemasters say the company hasn't missed a beat since a fire destroyed their manufacturing plant.

Firefighters from three different counties fought for nearly a dozen hours to put out the blaze at Coffee Masters, 27709 Concrete Drive, Oct. 27. Within an hour phones were transferred to a neighboring warehouse, and employees were already taking orders from customers.

When the fire began, the outpouring of assistance was incredible, explained Jim Rich, vice president of Coffee Masters. He praised the Indent-Co for the use of their facility. "I can't say enough about them," Rich said about his neighbors. AT&T was also cited by Rich, as they quickly set up telephones to ring at the new site.

"If no one had heard about the fire," said Rich, "within an hour they wouldn't have never known there was a fire."

Rich said the company's mainframe for the entire computer system was saved, carried out under the arm of a firefighter as if the item were a baby. Company records were also salvaged.

Currently Coffee Masters is operating out of three different locations, including sales conducted at Indent-Co's warehouse, a Barrington building which is being used for manufacturing, and a 12,000 square foot facility in Crystal Lake owned by the J.A. Frate Company. The phone number for Coffee Masters remains the same.

The loss the company incurred is estimated around $4 million. Roasted was 100,000 pounds of coffee. According to Rich, Coffee Masters will be churning out coffees, cocoa and teas to specialty stores as it's always done from one location. Architectural plans have already been submitted for a new building. Coffee Masters has about 10,000 clients around the world who order from them, and "The support we've had from customers is unbelievable," the vice president explained.

Lake County Sheriff's Department detectives, state fire marshals, and the Fox Lake Fire Department is currently investigating the fire which originated in the southwest area of the warehouse. Officials say so far they have no cause to suspect foul play.

'If no one had heard about the fire, within an hour they wouldn't have never known there was a fire.'

Pioneering publisher Hagerty leaves legacy to Illinois area

Albert H. Hagerty, in publishing and printing all his life in northern Illinois, pioneered the concept of group publishing of weekly newspapers.

At one time during World War II, he owned and operated seven community news weeklies in northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin, working out of a central plant in Libertyville.

Mr. Hagerty founded the Libertyville News and the Mundelein News in the 1930s. He later added the Richmond Gazette, Fox Lake Herald, Genoa City Broadcaster, Twin Lakes Reporter and Hebron Times. He shut down the group after a fire in his printing plant in the early 1950s.

"Al Hagerty was at least 20 years ahead of his time. His approach to grouping weekly newspapers in a general market now has become the industry standard," stated William H. Schroeder, president and publisher of Lakeland Newspapers.

Funeral services for Mr. Hagerty were held Oct. 31 in St. Joseph's Church, Libertyville. Burial was in Ascension Cemetery. Mr. Hagerty was 92. For the past five years he resided at Libertyville Manor Extended Care Facility in Libertyville.

Mr. Hagerty was associated in the newspaper business with his late wife, Lola, who died in 1971. He concentrated on printing and news coverage. She handled advertising and business affairs.

The former publisher worked as a Linotype operator in Waukegan and Chicago for a number of years before retiring. He remained active as a summer employee at Great America.

Surviving are two sons, Gerald (Jean) Hagerty of Mundelein and Albert Barry (Carolyn) Hagerty of Hinckley, eight grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

Family members are planning to turn over Mr. Hagerty's collection of newspaper memorabilia to Cook Memorial Public Library.

2002. Even if the state could absorb half of those cuts, it would still have to eliminate coverage for 256,243 people, including 4,600 veterans," said Jurado. "They say that is not that big a deal, but it is. Under the plan in Congress and the other proposed cuts in the budget care would be denied to 113,000 veterans in fiscal year 1996."

"There will have to be an adjustment period when Medicaid is given to the states," said Porter. "State budgets are in tough shape, we may have a need to make adjustments after the program is shifted."

Porter also points to new provisions in the two health care programs which will help fight abuses in the system.

"Under the new program if a patient finds they've been charged for service they did not receive, when they turn the bill in for investigation they will receive 25 percent of the cost of the fraud they uncover," Porter said.

The Veterans Administration, however, fears that 21,000 new veterans per year will turn to the VA for health care by the year 2002.

"The VA should be able to pick up veterans and put them into the system, but we won't be able to do that if veterans' funding continues to be cut," Jurado said. "We as a nation must realize that veterans who utilize the VA for medical care are among those in the most need. As the bulk of the veterans' population continues to age, there will be increased need, not decreased need. We need to be there when they need us most."

Porter says veterans' funding is among the top priorities for Congress. Crane points out that under the current GOP budget proposal, funding for veterans is set at $275 billion over the next seven years, which is $40 billion more than over the past seven years.

"This is more than $7 billion over what the president has proposed in his budget," Crane said.

The Congressional budget reconciliation bill is currently in Congressional conference. The conference is expected to give a report on Monday, Nov. 13. Following that report, the bill will return to Congress for final approval before being forwarded to President Bill Clinton for signature.

Clinton has vowed to veto many of the measures, specifically those relating to changes in Medicare and Medicaid.

spoke to the audience on how Stitt's philosophy of community partnership made the difference in their years of efforts to bring about a change.

Waukegan Sunrise's action plan will be accomplished in four phases.

- Phase I- Grass roots organizing. In this initial phase the group hopes to raise $60,000 through contributions and pledges from businesses, service clubs, local governments, foundations, industry and citizens. These funds will then be used to motivate the community to participate in the revitalization of downtown Waukegan and to attend a two day action planning retreat.

- Phase II- Urban design and comprehensive planning

- Phase III- Marketing analysis

- Phase IV- Economic development

March 20, 1996, has been set as an all-day retreat for citizens and community leaders who want to be involved in the priority and goal setting. The day retreat will be followed by a half-day vision workshop on April 13 where participants will more clearly define their vision.

"Citizens must believe in Waukegan and believe in the vision if the project is going to work," Stitt said. "In phase one we are dealing with creating a sense of faith and pride in the community."

Stitt believes previous attempts to retalize the downtown have not succeed because of a lack of vision. "There is no one big fix, you have to have the whole picture to complete the process," Stitt said. "There is not a lack of money to be contributed, there is a lack of vision to buy into. The greatest amount of success comes from stewardship."

Laine Zinn is one of the many who have already volunteered their time to the project.

"We retired to Waukegan after being away for 14 years," said Zinn. "We believe in the city and are working to make a connection between its diverse populations through church and community organizational efforts."

Waukegan School Board President Pat Foley reminded the crowd of business leaders, politicians and citizens that good schools play an integral role in the success of a downtown.

"We have one of the best districts in the county in test scores and we need to get that message out to the citizens. A strong downtown will strengthen all of Waukegan," Foley said.

Jack Potter is a downtown businessman who has been a member of the grass-roots efforts from the start.

"On a hot summer night we gathered in the Waukegan library and with 20 of us, raised several hundred dollars towards this effort," Potter said. "We know we can do it."

a problem within the district which must be given attention.

"Gangs and crime are an issue in Lake Bluff and throughout the district," Lachner said. "We have multi-million dollar homes 10 minutes down the road from places where gang shootings are occurring; the communities and law enforcement need to work together on these issues."

Lachner characterizes himself as a fiscal conservative and a social moderate. "I feel I well represent the Republicans who live in my district. I believe Republicans within the district feel as I do on most issues."

The senatorial candidate says he feels he has the support of the Lake County Republican Party in his campaign.

"When I initially ran for state representative, I defeated the party's endorsed candidate but since that time they have been very supportive," Lachner said.

When Barkhausen's term ends in January 1996, he will have served 16 years.

Mother arrested for crime

FOX LAKE—Twice in three weeks, a Fox Lake woman has been charged by police for contributing to the delinquency of minors.

The first offense was recorded Oct. 20 by Fox Lake police who arrested Sharon J. Masterson, 51, for harboring two juvenile females, truants from school. According to reports, Masterson allowed the kids to stay in her apartment at 236 E. Grand Avenue while they were skipping school. At that time, she was released on a $5,000 recognizance bond. Then, on Nov. 6 around 1:30 p.m. Masterson, a mother herself, was arrested and charged with contributing to the delinquency of four minors for serving them alcohol, police said. Masterson appeared before a judge at the Lake County courthouse, and was remanded on $5,000 bond. The four juveniles were turned over to the custody of their parents.

Lumber yard catches fire

LAKE VILLA—A fire of unknown origin caused extensive damage to the Hill Behan lumber yard at Rte. 83 and Petite Lake Road Nov. 4. Fire officials are unsure of the extent of damage and don't know the cause of the blaze. Grayslake, Fox Lake and Round Lake units helped. Lake Villa Fire Department put out the flames in about 30 minutes.

Gurnee man in more trouble

ROUND LAKE BEACH—Kenneth Kozak, 42, 4312 Centennial Court, Gurnee, faces intimidation charges in addition to aggravated sexual abuse charges. Round Lake Beach detectives were able to get an arrest warrant on intimidation charges after obtaining tapes of a phone conversation Kozak had with an 8-year-old Round Lake Beach girl. Kozak reportedly ordered her to perform a sexual act to herself while talking to her on the phone, and threatened her with confinement or physical harm if she did not do it. Police officials acknowledge other police departments are considering charges against Kozak as well. Kozak remains in jail on a $200,000 bond.

Superintendent sought

VERNON HILLS—The search is on for a new superintendent to head Hawthorn School Dist. 73 in Vernon Hills. The board of education hired the consulting firm of Bickert, Warren, Barnes & Associates Ltd. to begin the interviewing and screening process. The board hired the Highland Park search firm for a price not to exceed $16,300. Interim Superintendent Jesse Porres has been leading the district since Superintendent Ed Noyes resigned in the summer. Noyes resigned after two years of financial hardship in the school district. Dist. 73 was placed on the state watch list of financially troubled schools. Last spring, voters had to approve a dual referendum package to help erase a $10 million debt. The search firm will provide a list of prospective candidates, screen potential candidates and do background checks. The firm is expected to conduct interviews in early January in the hopes of selecting a new superintendent by next spring.

Fremont building new offices

FREMONT TOWNSHIP—Fremont School District 79 has approved a bid from Brandon and Associates, to build the new district administration building. The new building will be located just to the east of the current mobile unit which houses the district offices, and should be finished by spring. Superintendent Gary Mical will hold a pre-construction meeting with the architect and general contractor Nov. 13 to work out the timetable and details of construction.

Gurnee plans special census

GURNEE—Gurnee is looking for a few good counters. The US Census Bureau will be conducting a special census of Gurnee later this month. Application forms are available at Gurnee Village Hall, 325 N. O'Plaine Rd. The pay to be an enumerator is $7 an hour. Qualifications are: 18 years of age, a US citizen, high school diploma or equivalent, ability to walk and climb stairs and available full-time and some evenings. "It usually takes about two months. We are anticipating between 21,000 to 22,000 people," James Hayner, village administrator, said. The village receives some of its tax revenue based on population.

Police seek aid in assault

GRAYSLAKE—Grayslake police are asking for the community's help in locating a man who assaulted a nurse at Victory Medical Center on Atkinson Road. According to Sgt. Matt McCutcheon, a nurse in the medical facility was checking doors to unused offices in the suite to make sure they were locked. At 11 a.m., she came upon an unlocked door, reached in to lock it from the inside and was assaulted. The man then ran downstairs, left the front of the building and fled the scene through the Estates of Eastlake subdivision. Even though the nurse was knocked to the floor and dazed in the darkened room, she was able to provide a partial description of her attacker. The man is described as a white male, 19 to 20 years old, 5 feet 10 inches tall, 160 pounds, with brown hair possibly below the shoulders and scruffy facial hair. He was wearing a green army jacket and blue jeans.

City battles youth crime

PARK CITY—The city's effort to crackdown on crime activity among youth is apparently paying dividends. Mayor Rob Allen told city council members of successful efforts regarding graffiti removal and a suspected arson case. "Information has been turned over to the Lake County State's Attorney's office regarding the juveniles who burned down the house on Frontage Road," Allen said. Allen said the police department also knows who is responsible for graffiti. The youths are from Gurnee and Zion as well as Park City.

War hero honored

WAUCONDA—A resident who received the Congressional Medal of Honor following his service in World War II was buried this week in a ceremony held in Springfield. George Pierceall, 79, died of congested heart failure Oct. 22. Not known as a man who spoke about himself too often, Pierceall held a secret from many people—the fact that he received the highest medal of honor awarded by the U.S. Military. Pierceall took command of his post after his company's commanding officer was killed in a battle in France during January 1945. Pierceall's heroics saved his company's lives, while he alone was responsible for killing dozens of the enemy. The Springfield, Ill. VFW post attended the ceremony in Pierceall's honor. Taps were played along with a 21-gun salute.

Church helps Bosnian family

LAKE ZURICH—The St. Matthew Lutheran Church and School welcomed a refugee family from Bosnia and gave them some supplies to help them on their way to their new life. The church collected a "Welcome Pack" for the Basic family of five. The pack is a one-month supply of food staples and household goods, including such basic items as dishes, towels and pots and pans. The pack was delivered to the Bosnian refugees for their first night in the United States on Oct. 25. The Basic family is one of more than 500 refugee families who will arrive in the Chicago area this year. St. Matthew's joined with churches and families across the Chicago area in the Chicago 500 Project.

Villages, schools meet

GRAYSLAKE—Representatives of Antioch High School board, political leaders and feeder elementary districts all met under one roof to begin the process of solving educational issues which face them all. For the first time, community leaders were also part of the discussion. Attending the Nov. 1 meeting were Antioch Mayor Marilyn Shineflug, Lake Villa Mayor Frank Loffredo and Lindenhurst Mayor Paul Baumunk. Trustees from all three villages were also present.

GOP leaders eye unity above all

Republican leadership embodied by House Majority Leader Bob Churchill and County Board Rep. John Schulien, who doubles as party chairman, is doing its best to disguise, or at least deflect, a potentially damaging split in GOP ranks in Lake County.

Churchill and Schulien accomplished a political masterstroke by their division of allegiance in what is expected to be a hotly contested U.S. Senate nomination. Churchill announced early his backing of Lt. Bob Kustra, a testament to his position as an insider and party loyalist. Schulien hopped on the bandwagon for State Rep. Al Salvi, professing social and personal ties to Kustra's opponent, who in two General Assembly terms has established a reputation for independence. Cynicism notwithstanding, having two party leaders in opposite camps makes for brilliant politics. Lake County Republicanism wins no matter who garners the nomination.

Schulien "laid it on pretty heavy" in embracing the recent defection of three Democrats to Republican ranks, making sure that the county's GOP posture as open, big and happier than ever didn't go unnoticed.

A dead giveaway, though, of the party's determination to maintain unity above all was the flip-flop of State Rep. Verna Clayton on her decision to retire. With her suitcases virtually packed and practically on her way to a condo in the Carolinas, poor Verna was snatched from her swan song days and jolted back into harness. What was going noticed, perhaps, was the fact that Clayton's retirement was signalling the loss of a loyal party soldier who was tuned in on the party leadership's pro-growth strategy that is increasingly irritating to independent Republicans. That, and prospects of Clayton's successor being another Salvi, older brother Mike who shares his brother's trait of thinking for himself, galvanized county GOP leaders into action.

As a member of the Salvi for Senate team, Schulien is unlikely to draw attention to himself as a party ramrod next spring when newly elected Republican precinct committeemen go through the requirement of selecting their county chairman for the next two years. By emphasizing party unity, the GOP leadership also is acting to prevent expansion of its independent wing on the County Board.

But that's another story.

Corridor Council needs a tag day

Members of the Corridor Planning Council (CPC) representing 11 municipalities and the County of Lake got a harsh dose of reality of how they stand as a sounding board and public voice on construction of the controversial Rte. 53 extension.

Considering the hiring of an independent design consultant to advise the council on such things as improving the look of the proposed tollway and providing for retaining walls and sound barriers, CPC was advised that the cost would run about $100,000.

"I almost choked," admitted Libertyville Mayor JoAnn Eckmann, chairman of the advisory body which has an annual budget of $3,000. Members pay $250 each yearly for the opportunity to have a sayso on the toll road construction.

Grayslake Mayor Pat Carey, head of a subcommittee to determine financial support for the consultant, said a pro-active approach is needed. What's Mayor Carey going to do? Hold a tag day? Maybe a benefit spaghetti supper.

Short of a sugar daddy coming to the rescue, CPC is left with the unlikely possibility of relying on state transportation officials for advice. That's like asking hopelessly addicted substance abusers if drugs should be legalized.

Even with a $100,000 study on the table, the CPC position in the face of the unending resources of the Illinois Tollway Commission and the might of the State of Illinois still is pitifully miniscule. Almost laughable in a way.

The CPC dilemma is another example of how difficult it is for citizen forces to stand up to big government today. No wonder citizens are disenchanted with government not to mention that CPC looks a bit foolish.

Crossing vigilance raised by tragedy

BILL SCHROEDER

Publisher

After the school bus tragedy in Fox River Grove, is there any driver who doesn't draw an extra breath at every rail crossing?

There have to be dozens of crossings in our area combining the potentially lethal mixture of parallel highways, fast moving commuter trains and school buses coping with rush hour traffic. I travel through several Rte. 14 clone crossings every day. We all do.

I suppose all the investigations, testings, reenactments and studies serve a purpose. But they don't replace lost lives and they don't replace individual vigilance.

It's ludicrous to talk about reconstructing all the rail crossings that provide the ingredients for disaster. There isn't enough time or money in the world to do that.

But there is enough time—and money—to insure that bus drivers perform their duties more vigilantly, that travel times and routes are changed to ease rush hour turmoil and that unruly students are made to behave on school buses.

In the sorrow and reflection that has followed Fox River Grove, drivers are reviewing their own habits and practices. Here's one guy who'll never again pull the dumb stunt of stopping on a rail crossing jammed next to a stop signal—just to get another car length closer to the intersection.

Everyone was taught to stop, look and listen at rail crossings even before learning to drive. It's still a cardinal rule. Why don't we ever learn?

POWELL TIME—In politics, timing is everything. In that case, the forces clamoring for a Colin Powell presidency in 1996 may be wasting their breath. Republicans simply don't need Powell like they did as recently as 13 months ago—before the GOP took control of Congress in the 1994 elections.

There probably wasn't one Republican in a 100 who wouldn't have killed for Gen. Powell a little more than a year ago. Where was Powell when the party needed him? Certainly the highly respected military figure wasn't working the boonies to arouse anti-Democratic feelings among the electorate.

The point is that Gen. Powell hasn't paid his dues as a politician like he worked his way through the thick- et of military red tape to carve an illustrious career, overcoming prejudice against African-Americans along the way. There's a big difference.

A noted columnist wrote that Powell wants to be "crowned" president. How true. Lake County Republicans have a saying that "you have to carry water for the elephant" if you want to get ahead. Maybe that's unseemly for a four star general, but it makes sense for an ambitious politician.

RENEWAL VIGOR—Jack Potter, who once harbored a desire to be mayor of Waukegan, now is devoting his energies to downtown renewal. Waukegan Sunrise has been formed to lead the revitalization. "People of the county hunger for a revitalized Waukegan," exclaims Potter. It's doubtful whether folks throughout northeast suburbia will be lining up to contribute, but there's no question that an economically and culturally vibrant Waukegan is in the best interests of all.

Stop fooling people

Editor:

Once again, Jack Martin is confusing the facts with his brand of fiction!

He is correct that the Democrats of Lake County are mad at new County Clerk Helander's reorganization of the office. And so are most residents who require services of the office. Helander in less than a year, has wreaked havoc by firing the experienced deputies she agreed to work with during the campaign; by firing experienced clerks familiar with the duties and functions of the office and bringing on her own campaign workers and Republican patronage workers including Edna Schade, Marty Paulson, and Daphne Deadrick, the sister-in-law of Republican Circuit Court Clerk Coffelt to name but a few; requested a 52 percent increase in the County Clerk's budget (but settled for 25 percent); raised fees for services and generally tarnished the professional image of the office by instituting management by crisis!

Is this what the voters deserve? I think not and regardless of what political party they support, many are questioning Helander's ability to administer her office effectively and fairly.

Martin is also wrong when he compares DuPage and Lake County when it comes to the office of county clerk. DuPage County has a separate election commission. The county clerk has no election See LETTERS page B5

PARTY LINES

Candidate screening day will determine GOP front runners

Party Lines, the Lakeland Newspapers column of political commentary, is prepared from staff reports.

The Lake County Republican Central Committee will conduct Candidate Screening Day, Saturday, Nov. 11, for candidates seeking the Republican nomination in the 1996 General Primary Election.

The screening day gives candidates the opportunity to speak for five minutes on their campaign platform followed by five brief questions from the moderator (the same five questions for all candidates) and five minutes of questions and answers.

Endorsements from the party will be announced Nov. 27 following executive session voting.

Party Lines predicts several GOP candidates will win hands-down endorsement in the procedures including Bob Neal as recorder of deeds and Verna Clayton in the Dist. 51 State Representative race. Party Lines predicts the Clayton race will be the hottest the county has seen since the Kathy Ryg-Willard Helander clerk's race. Watch for Rte. 53 to be the cornerstone issue in the Clayton-Mike Salvi race.

Party Lines also predicts the Lake County GOP will deem both home-grown Senate Candidate Al Salvi and Lt. Gov. Bob Kustra as qualified.

Surfin' Democrats — The Lake Democratic Party now has a home page on the Internet's world-wide-web. The Internet presence will increase the accessibility of political, civic and local-interest information to the residents of Lake County. The home page will provide information about local politics, candidates, elected officials and a schedule of events. The Lake County Democratic Party home page can be accessed at <http://www.webcom.com/lakedems/>. Additional information is available by e-mail at nocnflct@ix.netcom.com or by calling Terry Link at 623-4656.

Bob Bash — Citizens for Robert P. Neal will hold a fundraiser at Maravellas' in Ingleside on Tuesday, Nov. 14 from 5:30 to 8 p.m. The fundraiser will aid Neal's bid to earn the Republican nomination for Lake County Recorder of Deeds, long held by Republican Frank Nustra. The site is in the neighborhood of Republican challenger Alberta Meyer. Tickets may be purchased at the door or at Neal's campaign headquarters, 406 Peterson Road, Libertyville. A $50 contribution will include a deluxe buffet. For more information call campaign headquarters at 680-7040.

Kyle challenge — With the deadline for filing petitions just around the corner, look for new candidates to surface in local races. Don't be surprised if new Republican Christopher Wakefield challenges Democrat Angelo Kyle for county board. After all, Wakefield's party switch was timed just for the primary.

GOP visitor — Congressman John Kasich, chairman of the U.S. House of Representative's Budget Committee visited Lake County Nov. 4 to speak to the 10th District Women's Republican Club Fall Membership Reception. Kasich accepted the invitation of Congressman Phil Crane (R-8th Dist.)

Keeping politicians ethical — Lake County's top GOP legislators have teamed up on a bill to keep politicians ethical. State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion) has sponsored the bill in the senate, Rep. Robert Churchill (R-Lake Villa) sponsored the bill in the House. The measure prohibits members of the General Assembly from accepting payment for an appearance or speech except for the actual travel; expenses (travel, lodging and meals) of the member and one relative. Also, members of the General Assembly would receive compensation for food or lodging for any regular spring session day after May 31. The measure will take effect June 1, 1996.

On the campaign trail — Jim Johnson, a candidate for Robert L. Grever's Dist. 19 county board seat, has already hit the campaign trail — even though the primary is more than five months away. Speaking before the Lake Zurich Village Board this week, he spoke against putting a residential development in an industrial park, and against the village building a public works Facility without a public referendum. In an analogy, he compared government to the Blob, something that continues to grow. "I think it is time that perhaps the board put the Blob on a diet and say no," Johnson said.

Lake Zurich Trustee Karen Demos-Rosenthal summed up his message in four words — "He is a candidate."

Dino Karahallos, a village resident, had a different perspective. "My understanding of business and government is a little bit above a seventh grade level," he said, adding he was "put off by simplistic rhetoric when it comes to government."

Mayor guns it to get across tracks — Fox Lake Mayor Ken Hamsher explained the Chain O' Lakes village is performing a test on railroad tracks around town after concern came about from the Fox River Grove school bus tragedy last month. "We too became interested in safety in the Village of Fox Lake, and all the railroad crossings," said the mayor. Hamsher said that sometimes he has to "gun it" while traveling over one particular site, not mentioned, in Fox Lake during early morning hours, in order that the crossing gates don't come down on top of his car.

Republicans standing firm

Editor:

It is time for voters to recognize those members of Congress and Senators that have political courage.

Medicare Part A, which covers hospitalization and nursing care, will run out of funds by the year 2002. The cost of Medicare Part B, which covers doctor visits, is increasing by an unaffordable 10 percent every year. The facts are clear—Medicare is in trouble.

Much of the establishment in Washington, D.C. would like to sweep the problems of Medicare under the rug of deception. These are the same people that have brought us our huge unacceptable federal debt, which continues to grow. They are trying to tell seniors that Medicare could survive without any changes. How shameful!

A new force has arrived in Washington that is trying to change the politics as usual. These people come from all over the country and have different backgrounds. They have one thing in common. They are Republicans.

Republicans, since finally becoming a majority in Washington, have tried to clear the mess created by over 40 uninterrupted years of Democratic rule. Democrats, true to history, are only trying to gain political mileage by scaring seniors about Republican reform, while suggesting that change is not even necessary. The bottom line is that to save Medicare for all seniors, Congress must slow Medicare growth by $270 billion over seven years as the Republican plan provides.

Now, even in the face of slipping polls,

Republicans are standing firm to do what is right for America. That contrasts favorably with Mr. Clinton, who has consistently attempted to conform his Presidency to public opinion (and has failed miserably).

One can only hope that voters will reward the Republicans for their integrity in the next election.

Land zoners play God

Editor:

When the powers that be say the zoning is there and it can't be changed, they're basically saying that humans are infallible.

Education and knowledge are to be used to prevent us from making the same mistakes over and over.

I thought the Impact/Coalition bus trip was to point out what will happen if development is pushed to the umpteenth degree—if zoning is wrong it must be changed—before, rather than after, the fact.

When buildings begin crumbling, because they've been built on wetlands; when you have excessive flooding and astronomical insurance premiums to pay; when you have dead animals and birds in the streets (it's happening now); when all creatures are totally extinct because their homes and food supply have been destroyed or mitigated; when the world is black with smog and soot as illustrated in the Dr. Seuss book "The Lorax"—then tell me the zoning can't be changed.

When humans stop playing God, and only then, will this world change for the better.

Term limits worthwhile

Editor:

I applaud U.S. Congressman Philip M. Crane on speaking out on term limits for members of Congress in the Oct. 6 issue. It is a sad day when the U.S. Supreme Court overturns laws 23 states feel are needed. There is no reason to amend the constitution when each state is capable of restricting term limits.

Term limits are imposed on the president. Our other leaders should also have term limits. These term limits need to be set to keep the ideas and congresspeople fresh. These limits will increase the quality of the candidates. This will also reduce spending because newer members are more fiscally responsible and less likely to spend than older members.

Term limits will also attract those running for office that don't want to become career politicians. It takes years to become a member with influence now. Only people willing to serve in politics for many years are running for office. It takes time and money to run for office. If it was easier to be able to serve for a shorter period of time, more people may be willing to run for a seat. These term limits will set time limits in which to attain certain goals these politicians have in mind when running for office.

I want someone in office with a drive to represent me. I hope that everyone can work together and amend the constitution for the people. We are putting our trust in these politicians. I agree with Representative Crane—it is going to be a difficult struggle.

Welfare reform takes shape

Editor:

The seedlings of welfare reform have been sown in Illinois through a network of local parents, service providers and community organizations called Family Centered Services. From the vantage point of both users and providers, DCFS is doing something right!

Self-sufficiency is the crux of synergistic efforts in each local network. During this summer alone, the following was achieved in the Carman and Clearview school communities in Waukegan:

- Single-teen moms were trained for work readiness;

- Hispanic caregivers were trained and licensed as entrepreneurs in Home Day Care, thereby enabling them to earn wages while facilitating others to work through the availability of additional child care in the Hispanic community;

- English speaking caregivers were also trained and licensed, with the same outcomes—greater self-sufficiency and additional child care;

- Working heads-of-household received monies to attend schools and universities in Lake County;

- Throughout the summer pre-school and school-aged children participated in safe, structured activities as an alternative to gang involvement;

- Families received parent counseling as family units to reinforce family unity;

- Teens received special counseling as individuals and as a group; and

- Carman school had summer school, long a desire of parents and school administrators.

The beauty of the program is that the needs of the community were identified by local parents; the needs of the community were met by local providers; and most importantly, the results were monitored carefully by a committee composed of local parents, local providers, and other local organizations.

American Diabetes Association campaigns to prevent blindness

In recognition of National Diabetes month in November, the American Diabetes Assn. is sponsoring a nationwide initiative to prevent thousands of people with diabetes from going blind.

About one half of the nation's estimated 14 million people with diabetes have at least early signs of diabetic retinopathy, a disease of the blood vessels in the retina. Every year, an average of 25,000 Americans go blind due to diabetic retinopathy, yet 90 percent of these cases could be prevented with an annual dilated eye exam.

"Because diabetic retinopathy often has no initial symptoms, no pain, no blurred vision, no inflammation, a yearly dilated eye exam is essential to detect the disease early and begin treatment," said Mark E. Molitch, MD, president of the American Diabetes Association, Northern Illinois Affiliate, Inc. "November is National Diabetes Month and one of our primary goals is to motivate people with diabetes to see an eye care professional at least once a year for a simple in-office procedure that could preserve their sight."

To inform people with diabetes about diabetic retinopathy, the American Diabetes Assn. and the National Eye Institute have joined 16 other health and community organizations to distribute a free brochure entitled "Don't Lose Sight of Diabetic Eye Disease." The brochure includes tips on avoiding blindness and emphasizes the importance of a yearly dilated eye exam. This brochure, along with other information about diabetes management and details about local programs and services, are available by calling the American Diabetes Assn. at (312) 346-1805 or 1-(800)342-2383.

Diabetes is a serious disease that affects the body's ability to produce or respond properly to insulin, a hormone that allows blood sugar to enter the cells of the body and be used for energy. In addition to blindness, diabetes can cause kidney disease, heart disease, stroke, and nerve damage leading to amputations. Currently, there is no cure for diabetes.

The mission of the American Diabetes Assn. is to prevent and cure diabetes and to improve the lives of all people affected by diabetes. As the nation's leading voluntary health organization supporting diabetes research, information, and advocacy, the Association provides a variety of community programs, publications, and services to help people live happier and healthier lives.

Cardiac catheterization provides road map of the heart

Cardiac catheterization creates a window into the heart. With one small incision in the leg and special equipment, physicians can visualize the heart, arteries and veins.

Cardiac catheterization allows us to have a road map of the patient's heart," Fahd Jajeh, M.D. a board certified cardiologist on staff at Victory Memorial Hospital, said. "Cardiologists can confirm a condition, define the severity of it and determine if there are any other conditions affecting the patient's heart."

Cardiac catheterizations are often done when there is suspected artery blockage, a valve condition or after a heart attack. Before having a cardiac cath, many patients undergo other diagnostic tests including electrocardiograms (EKG), angiograms and stress tests.

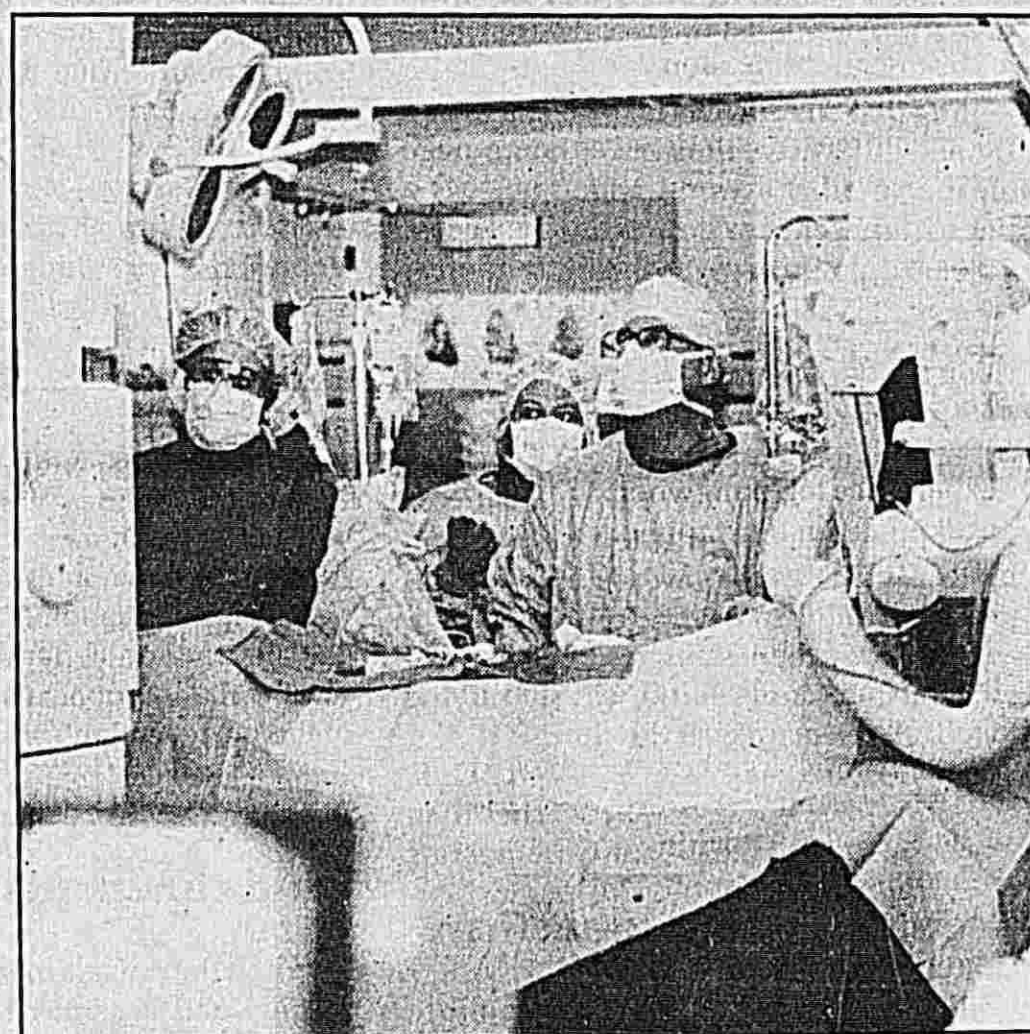

"If there is a narrowing of the blood vessels that provide blood flow to the heart, the heart does not get enough oxygen and it must work harder than usual," Norman Weinstein, M.D., a board certified cardiologist on staff at Victory Memorial Hospital, said. "The catheterization allows the cardiologist to visualize the coronary arteries so that if there is a flow-limiting blockage, it can be treated to eliminate or reduce the cardiac symptoms."

During the procedure, a tube is inserted into a vein in the arm or leg and is pushed through the highway of arteries to the heart. A dye is then injected into the tube and doctors can see how much blockage or narrowing is present in coronary arteries. They can also detect congenital heart defects, valve disease and impaired myocardial function.

The patient receives a local anesthetic, but is awake during the procedure.

Last year at Victory Memorial Hospital, 310 cardiac catheterizations were performed. Of those, 231 patients were diagnosed with heart disease. These patients were either treated with medication, angioplasty, bypass surgery or valve surgery.

"The cardiac cath is the most accurate diagnostic procedure available that can tell physicians what is going on in the heart and in the arteries surrounding the heart," Dr. Weinstein said.

Dr. Norman Weinstein watches a patient's heart on a video screen during a cardiac catheterization at Victory Memorial Hospital.

Free pamphlet addresses hearing loss in children

An estimated 1.2 million children in the United States have some kind of hearing loss. The Miracle-Ear Children's Foundation unveiled a new resource for the parents of those children.

"Your Child's Hearing Loss—First Steps for You and Your Family," is a 16 page, full-color booklet offered free of charge through the Foundation; phone 1-800-234-5422. The pamphlet contains basic information on hearing loss, tips on support at home and in school, and a list of resources. It was reviewed by a group of professionals representing a wide range of hearing health knowledge and expertise.

The Miracle-Ear Children's Foundation has helped more than 1,000 children with hearing loss since it was established as a national non-profit organization in 1990. The Foundation provides hearing aids and services to hearing impaired children whose families do not qualify for family assistance, yet can't afford to purchase the aids.

Often undetected, hearing loss can lead to a variety of social and psychological obstacles for children, such as low self-esteem, isolation and delayed communications skills development.

The foundation receives funding from Dahlberg, Inc., a subsidiary of Bausch and Lomb, and through individual donations. For more information, write to the Miracle-Ear Children's Foundation, P.O. Box 59261, Minneapolis, MN 55459-0261.

The need for more organ donors continues to rise

The shortage of donated organs for transplants to patients is at a "critical level," a Grayslake service club learned.

"People don't want to think about their own mortality," Linda Drennan of the Auxiliary of Condell Hospital in Libertyville, said.

Drennan and Joyce Jeffries of the Auxiliary explained to Grayslake Exchange Club members the need for more organ donors. One way to make one's organs available after death is to mark the allotted area of the driver's license.

The family members should be notified of any such decision.

"It is quite a process for each person to think about," Jeffries said. Through a video presented by Evanston and Glenbrook hospitals, club members learned the joy of cases when an organ was found, while others waited and later died.

More than 200,000 people in the U.S. are currently waiting for some type of organ or tissue transplant. Every 20 minutes, someone is added to the list.

The survival rate for those receiving organs continues to climb as well as the need for donors.

An estimated 9,000 people who die each year are potential organ donors. Of those, only about half actually become donors.

A single donor may provide new organs or tissues for as many as 25 recipients. It is possible to indicate which organs to donate.

Cost of the transplant surgery is the responsibility of the recipient, according to the video.

The age of a donor may range from newborn to 75.

At Condell, the Regional Organ Bank of Illinois is the organization which is used. To obtain an organ donor consent form call 1-312-431-3600 or 1-800-545-GIFT.

Flu shots available for $5

They don't know when or where it will strike, but doctors say the flu is definitely on its way and now is the time for people to arm themselves.

The American Lung Association recommends getting flu shots now until Nov. 15. However, pregnant women, people allergic to eggs and anyone paralyzed with Guillain-Barre syndrome should not get shots.

Flu shots are particularly recommended for:

- Anyone 65 or older
- Adults and children with long-term heart and lung problems
- Residents of nursing homes and other healthcare centers
- Anyone treated within the past year for kidney disease, cystic Fibrosis or chronic metabolic diseases such as diabetes, anemia or severe asthma
- People who have cancer of immunological disorders that lower resistance to infections
- Children and teens on long-term treatment with aspirin who may be at risk of getting Reye's syndrome if they catch the flu
- Doctors, nurses, police and others in frequent contact with the public Midwestern Outpatient Center, located in Lindenhurst, Park City and Zion, offer the flu shot for $5 per person. To make an appointment for a flu shot, call the physician closest to you:

Lake Villa, 300 N. Milwaukee Ave., 356-6131; Lindenhurst, 2045 E. Grand Ave., 356-6131; Park City, 401 S. Greenleaf Ave., 263-9900; Waukegan, 2504 Washington, 249-1733; Zion, 1911 27th St., 872-1615

Make the most of baby's first year

That little bundle of joy that looked so tiny and helpless just two months ago is now beginning to open his eyes widely at the sight of your face. The lines of a smile are forming on his cheeks as he starts to coo back at the sound of your voice. Your baby is on his way to exploring a whole new world of sights and sounds. And, both of you can't wait until he's able to get down in the trenches and play!

Even though your baby is small, he's awake and more alert for longer periods of time. Lake Forest Hospital offers "Baby's First Year Awake and Active: Baby's Learning Begins" on Wednesday, Nov. 28 at 7 p.m. in the hospital's Conference Center. Parents and their babies are invited to come and explore a variety of play activities to share together.

The program features topics that all new parents are concerned about including when to introduce solids, child safety, changing sleep habits and what's common and uncommon about feeding schedules.

Led by Martha Lepman and Amy Smith, child education professionals at Dearhaven, Lake Forest Hospital's child-care facility, you will learn what kinds of activities will stimulate your child's growth and how to potentially develop his/her curiosity and motor skills. Parents will also discover that making and selecting the right toys builds creative play that you can enjoy along with your child.

"Whether you're a first time parent or second, you know that there are many books on the market pertaining to early child development that can be quite confusing," states Lepman. "In addition, your friends may have different views on how they are bringing up their baby, which may not be the right way for you. We're here to assist parents by answering any questions they may have and to help them separate fact from fiction in raising their child," adds Lepman.

"Infants need to experience play right from the start," says Smith. "Parents seem at a loss for the types of toys that will stimulate and encourage activity. I'm able to show them ways to be creative by making toys at home for hours of play time fun with their infant," adds Smith.

Subsequent classes will be held for 4 to 8 month olds and 8 to 12 month olds. To register for this program or future "Baby's First Year" offerings, please call 234-6112.

Hospital schedules first aid class

Good Shepherd Hospital's Health Evaluation Lifestyle Programs (HELP) department will sponsor an American Red Cross first aid class from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 18 in the Lakeview Room of the hospital.

Each participant will receive first aid and cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) certificates once they complete the course. The fee for the class is $65 per person.

Instruction includes adult CPR, obstructed airway procedures, treatment of burns, lacerations, sprains, splinting and bleeding control. A primary objective of the course is teaching participants how to maintain control in an emergency situation.

For more information or to register, call HealthAdvisor at 1-800-323-8622. The first aid class also can be provided as an onsite employee education program at area businesses and industries.

Good Shepherd Hospital is a part of Advocate Health Care, one of the largest health organizations in the Chicago area. The hospital is located north of Barrington on Highway 22, two miles west of Route 59.

Center offers diabetes management

People with diabetes will learn how to live long and well during a one-hour free program titled "Living Well With Diabetes" on Saturday, Nov. 11, 1 to 2:30 p.m. at Midwestern Regional Medical Center, 2501 Emmaus Ave., Zion.

Healthcare professionals will provide information and instructions on daily living, nutrition and preventive care.

For more information or to register for the program, call Midwestern at 731-4109.

Peripheral Artery

If you are over 50 and experience leg pain when walking (which disappears after rest), or tingling, numbness or coldness in your legs or feet, you may be suffering from or at risk of developing a blood circulation condition known as PAD (peripheral artery disease). A free 15-minute screening for the condition will be offered at Midwestern Regional Medical Center, 2501 Emmaus Ave., Zion on Saturday, Nov. 18 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. James J. Bass, Jr., MD, a board-certified vascular and thoracic surgeon, will perform the screening. For more information or to schedule an appointment, call 731-4109.

Good Shepherd Hospital

Women's seminar

Good Shepherd Hospital's psychiatric services department will sponsor a free community education seminar from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 15, at the hospital. "Juggling Responsibilities: A Seminar for Women" is the focus of the program. This is the last in a year-long series of 10 workshops that focuses on family issues and emotional health. Victory Foundation Festival lights-up season with Festival of Trees

GLORIA DAVIS

Staff Reporter

The Victory Memorial Hospital Foundation will be holding its fourth annual Festival of Trees from Thursday, Nov. 16 through Sunday, Nov. 19, at the Midlane Country Club, located at 14565 Yorkhouse Rd. in Wadsworth.

Tickets for this popular holiday event are available by calling (708)360-4246. Adult tickets are $3, seniors, $2 and $1.50 for children.

According to Linda Lampinen, VMH community relations representative, all funds raised by this exciting and glitteringly versatile event will go to benefit the Oncology Dept. and the new Family Center of the hospital.

The core of the event will as usual be a display of 50 designer decorated Christmas trees and 24 designer decorated holiday wreaths. These trees and wreaths will be for viewing, purchase in their individual entirety, or purchase through raffle tickets.

Other festival highlights include continuous stage entertainment created by local musicians, dancers and choral groups.

An entire miniature house will be on display in the center of the country club's main ballroom filled with holiday decorations and crafts.

There will also be a gingerbread display.

A special seasonal seminar, "The Dazzle

Without the Frazzle," will be held on Nov. 16, at 7 p.m. The focus of the seminar will be on holiday menus, home decorating ideas and directions, as well as personal holiday grooming information and suggestions. Tickets for the seminar are $15 each and can be reserved by calling (708)360-4246.

In this, a season especially meant for children, a popular feature will be Frosty's Fantasyland, a children's activity area where games, crafts and various holiday-related activities will be going on all during the festival.

"Frolic with Frosty," a children's theme party will be held four times during the festivities: on Friday, Nov. 17, at 6 p.m.; on Saturday, Nov. 18, at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. and on Sunday, Nov. 19, at 2 p.m. Tickets are $7 each and are available by calling (708) 360-4246. These tickets will also include entry to the festival.

For more information on this special Lake County holiday happening, call VMH, (708)360-4246.

Designers deck the halls of Concept House

The luxury home of the future is decked out for the holidays in an array of styles from the traditional to the eclectic.

The Park Ridge Youth Campus is holding its 1995 Holiday Designers Showhouse at Orren Pickell Builders' Concept House in Riverwoods through Nov. 19. Showhouse hours are 10 a.m. to 7 p.m., Thursday and Friday; and 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Saturday and Sunday. Tickets are $12 at the door.

The Showhouse is a floodgate of ideas for those who want to deck out their own house for the holidays, whether that home is a mansion or a little cottage. Interior designers from Lake Geneva, Wis. to Burr Ridge, Illinois have taken on the task of decorating 10 rooms in the 5,200-square-foot home.

Visitors to the showhouse will be greeted at the door by a towering tree that reaches its branches to the cathedral ceiling. Its decor is simple, yet elegant with white flowers and lavender ribbon. The family room is dressed in a reindeer theme. Here the sofa pillows are easily made festive with ribbon strewn around them. The living room takes on a traditional theme with Christmas in Vienna.

The bedrooms show wide-ranging themes from a teddy bear decked child's room to a wild bedroom to a guest room observing Hanukkah.

The decorated trees throughout the house are being auctioned off at the end of the Showhouse and visitors are welcome to place their bids. Holiday shoppers may also find some unique presents in the gift shop while enjoying a cappuccino.

The Showhouse is not only a good opportunity to sigh at holiday beauty, but also to view the Concept House which is a showcase of design and state-of-the-art technology. The Concept House blends luxurious style with ecological function and has been designated a Good Cents Environmental Home. The Concept House is also the Custom Builder Magazine's 1995 Show Home.

Proceeds from the Designers Showhouse benefit the Park Ridge Youth Campus, a child and family welfare agency treating children from birth to 18 through residential care, foster care and services for medically complex children. The Youth Campus is a private, not-for-profit agency which relies on donations and fund raisers for a major part of its operating income.

The Concept House is located at 488 Thorngate Lane in the Thorngate subdivision, off Riverwoods Road in Riverwoods. For more information call 823-5170.

An Area Guide to Home Design, Remodeling and Real Estate

Frankly my dear, it's not an old home

NEAL TUCKER
Staff Reporter

When judges for the 1995 Lake County Home Builder's Association Tour of Homes drove up to the elegant southern colonial mansion on Lake St. in Libertyville, they thought there had to be a mistake. The home was quite lovely, but it looked so old and this was a tour only for new homes.

Builders Tom and Terry Girmscheid, a husband and wife team, were not offended at all. In fact, they considered the confusion an esteemed compliment.

The fact of the matter is, the home is newly constructed and it was designed to look authentic—or in other words—old. The judges' consensus was Girmscheid Builders had succeeded.

The home dubbed "The Scarlett," went on to sweep all six awards in the category for homes priced between $700,000 and $800,000. People entering the house were taken pleasantly by surprise with the sweeping staircases and the open balcony. The scene is straight out of "Gone With the Wind" and hence the home's name.

"Our philosophy is anybody can build a house with four walls and a roof. We put our heart and soul into it and make it a home," said Terry Girmscheid.

When the Girmscheid's first bought the one-acre lot, located across from Butler Lake, they remembered the dilapidated then razed home that had been there. Knowing they had a chance to build something special on the mature, wooded lot, the Girmscheid's built a spec home similar to what had been there.

With Terry as the designer and Tom as the builder, the Girmscheid's creation is bigger than the original at 4,400 square feet and does feature modern amenities and floorplan design. However, the home does stay true to the original period with tumbled marble and hardwood floors, not tile, and natural maple cabinets, not laminate.

The home features four bedrooms, three and a half baths, a four-car attached garage, a full garden basement and two fireplaces.

Terry Girmscheid said people were coming back into the home two and three times during the free admission home show because they want to see more. Any potential buyers had to be disappointed. The speculative See FRANKLY page B12 home sold three weeks prior to the home show after receiving another solid accolade.

The age of "The Miss Scarlett," a lavish southern colonial mansion across from Butler Lake in Libertyville, has fooled many people, including judges for a home builder's tour of homes. The 4,400-square-foot home was actually built last year by Girmscheid Builders, but appears to be a beautifully restored original.

The buyer is the third son of a large scale contractor and he said the home reminded him of the quality his dad built," Terry recalled.

Even though this home is gone, Terry Girmscheid stressed the same originality, from 3,000 square feet up, can be applied to any locale. She likens their homes to a painter beginning with a blank canvas. Every home is different.

Terry said many home builders who claim to be custom are little more than glorified tract builders. Girmscheid says those builders construct the same homes over and over again with minor variations. In business since 1989, Girmscheid Builders construct six to seven custom homes per year.

Other Girmscheid models in Libertyville are in Wineberry, Lake Somerset and Ashbury subdivisions. The company can be reached at 367-5258.

Among other amenities, "The Miss Scarlet" features the sweeping staircase from its namesakes' house in "Gone with the Wind." The home also features two stone fire places, along with four bedrooms, three and a half baths and a four-car garage.

To stay true with the period, Girmschied Builders installed tumbled marble flooring instead of tile. The kitchen in the $757,000 home features real Maplewood cabinetry because laminate cabinets obviously did not exist during the period of the Civil War.

The husband and wife team that comprises Girmschied builders did well in the 1995 Lake County Home Builders Association Tour of Homes. "The Miss Scarlett won all six awards in the tour for homes priced between $700,000 and $800,000. Terry is the designer and husband, Tom is the builder. This room is an example of their attention to exquisite detail.

—DECORATING DIMENSIONS—

Decorating tips to create special holiday atmosphere

"Decking the halls" for the holidays creates a warm, cozy mood for your family and guests, the kind of atmosphere that helps make the season so special. With a few helpful hints, you can beautifully decorate your home for the holidays, and have a lot of fun doing it! Creativity is important, so you don't have to spend all of your holiday budget on decorations.

Many of the same principles of design used to decorate a house apply when decorating for the holidays. The holiday colors you choose can complement or accent any room. Red and green may not be the best colors for your holiday look. For instance, you can use white or pink poinsettias instead of red, with decorations in soft colors.

Give a cheery holiday welcome to your visitors in your entry way or foyer. Snip sprigs of holly to fill planters by the front door and add large bows made from print fabric. Carry these same colors throughout the house. A coordinating fabric table skirt is the perfect touch, and is easy to do.

Candlelight gives a room that magically soft holiday glow. Group candlesticks together and place them on a mantle or table. Add special touches like sprigs of holly, pine or magnolia leaves at the base.

A festive decorated dining table or buffet makes the simplest menu extraordinary. You can place unscented votive candles at each setting and add tapers to your fresh flower centerpiece. Tie napkins with coordinating ribbons and place a sprig of fresh holly on the folded napkins or under the napkin rings. And use a coordinating holiday fabric to create a decorative sleeve for your chandelier chain.

Before guests arrive, don't forget to simmer some spicy potpourri, light the candles and play favorite holiday music. So go ahead, 'tis the season to decorate.

Custom advantage

Have you ever purchased a ready-made window treatment from a store or catalog only to be disappointed with the way it actually looks on your window? If the answer is "yes," you're not alone! One reason for your disappointment may be that ready-made window treatments are meant to fit "standard" window sizes, whatever that is. If your window is slightly wider or longer, the results can be disastrous.

It's easy to tell the difference between a custom-made and a ready-made drapery. Custom draperies are designed with extra fullness. This means fabric that amounts to two and one-half times the width of the window is used to construct the treatment. If it's a pleated drapery, the pleats are closer together at the top, allowing for extra fullness to fall gracefully into elegant folds. The pleats of a ready-made drapery are further apart, and since less material is used, the drapery can appear skimpy.

A custom treatment will use corner weights to allow the fabric to hang straight, and prevent flaring at the hem. Special linings may also be used to avoid sun fading and to add body to the treatment. Linings contribute to the energy efficiency of the treatment, providing an insulation layer between the fabric and the window. The lining should be chosen with the type of fiber used in the decorative fabric in mind. There are even black-out linings available to darken the room for daytime or late morning sleepers.

Finally, the extra touches you get from a custom treatment are endless. Detailing, such as ruffling, banding, cording and trims, and coordinating colors and fabrics make custom window treatments truly individual and reflective of your style and taste.—by MARY LEBEN, Decorating Den Grayslake, Gurnee. LECTURE

Opera lecture

As part of Barrington Lyric Opera's Outreach Community Education Program, the Chapter is sponsoring a lecture on "Makropulos Case" on Thursday, Nov. 16. The lecture, free and open to the public, will be held in the Meeting Room of the Barrington Area Library at 7:30 p.m. Lecturer is Mary Kurz, who has been a member of the Lecture Corps since 1985. For further information call Mary Wajda at 991-1207.

The voice speaks

Jim Cummings, the man who is single handedly the voice behind almost 100 percent of today's animated TV shows, will make his only U.S. appearance as the wrap-up speaker for the Stay Tooned Animation Gallery's 6th Annual Lecture Series. Cummings, who is the voice of Winnie the Pooh, Tigger, Darkwing Duck, Bonkers and many more of the Disney characters, is also the man behind the voice of The Tasmanian Devil. Cummings will speak on Saturday, Nov. 18 from 6 to 9 p.m. at the Stay Tooned Gallery located at The Arcade in downtown Lake Forest, 272 E. Deerpath. The lecture will include rare videos, an audience question and answer period and a first-hand look at Cummings bringing all his characters to life. Admission is free and reservations can be obtained by calling 234-3231.

SPECIAL EVENTS

Genealogy seminar held

The Lake County Genealogical Society and the College of Lake County are co-sponsoring a seminar for the family genealogist on Saturday, Nov. 11, at the College of Lake County. The program will be presented from noon to 1 p.m. in the Learning Resource Center atrium at CLC, 19351 W. Washington St. The program is free.

Lamb's Farm hosts holiday gift bazaar

Lamb's Farm Annual Holiday Gift Bazaar will be held Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 11 and 12, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Admission and parking are free. Over 30 artisans will display their ceramics, silver jewelry, wall figures and personalized storybooks, to name a few items. All of the crafters are local and all of the crafts are handmade. Call 362-4636 for details.

Program shows cultures' influence on quilting

Learn how three cultures have influenced the art of quilting at "Quilts of Different Cultures" on Sunday, Nov. 12, from 1 to 4 p.m., at the Lake County Forest Preserves' Lake County Museum near Wauconda. Participants will explore Central and South American, African American and Hawaiian cultures as they learn about the diversity of quilting techniques and how and where they originated.

The program is divided into three sessions and will begin with an exploration of Central and South American reverse appliques at 1:15 p.m. Find out how quilters in the United States have adapted this decorative technique.

At 2:15 p.m., participants will examine African American story quilting and discover how story quilting in the 19th century was used as a way to preserve African American family histories without using words.

Hawaiian applique patterns, an intricate continuous design, will be explored at 3:15 p.m. Hands-on craft activities for children and adults coincide with each session. Attend all three quilt presentations or just one. Admission is $3. Reservations are required.

The Lake County Museum is located in Lakewood Forest Preserve on Rte. 176, just west of Fairfield Road near Wauconda. For more information or to make a reservation, call the museum at 526-7878.

Eco-Tourism Helping To Save The Environment

by JIM WARNKEN,
PRESIDENT, NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

I'll be the first to admit that uncontrolled tourism has been a destructive factor in regards to the environment.

Having studied conservation back in the 1960's at Northern Illinois University, I have long been concerned about the destruction of the environment. Since getting into the travel business, I have seen much of the world's beauty sacrificed for the sake of the tourist dollar.

Now, ironically, that same tourist dollar is actually helping to save endangered species and working to allow tourism and the environment to co-exist.

The public's growing concern for preserving the earth's natural wonders has created a new concept called "eco-tourism". The world wildlife fund describes eco-tourism as "The pleasures of discovering and understanding spectacular Flora and Fauna with an opportunity to contribute to their protection."

One such example of tourism contributing to saving an endangered species is an adventure offered by Atlantic Marine Wildlife Tours.

You are taken in a small group by helicopter into Canada's Gulf of St. Lawrence. You land on an ice float where a herd of hump seals live and give birth around the end of February. You can actually walk among the infant seals which, only five years ago, were brutalized by club-swinging trappers for their prized snow white pelts. With the trappers now gone, the seals have been known to come out of the water and nurse pups right in front of the human visitors.

With seal tourism now generating $1.5 billion a year, the Canadian government is getting too much tax revenue to ever allow hunting of these precious creatures again.

Whale watching is another tourist industry which is having an impact on eliminating the slaughtering of the great mammals. It has become far more profitable to watch them, than to hunt them.

What is important now, is the traveler, and the travel industry, must recognize how fragile the environment is. Wilderness areas aren't Disneyland. The environment can't be fixed if we break it.

LIFE'S A BEAR

DONNA ABEAR

Lifestyles of the preferred and pre-approved

I don't mean to brag, but I have good credit. And because I have good credit, I am also popular.

Yes, it's true. Actually, I'm rather surprised, because having good credit was not a way to become popular when I was in high school. No. In high school, a girl could become popular in one of only three ways: 1. Become a cheerleader; 2. "Go steady" with the captain of the football team; or 3. Go to bed with the entire football team. These weren't really options for me because, 1. I couldn't do the "splits;" 2. He had a girlfriend already; and 3. I couldn't do the "splits."

So, here I am, 40-something, and suddenly I am popular in ways I never imaged. My mailbox is jammed with credit card offers addressed to Ms. Donna Abear, Preferred Customer (in layman's terms for those who don't understand credit card slang, this means Ms. Popular). My phone is ringing off the hook on a daily basis, usually at dinnertime, and usually with a call from a total stranger:

"Hello, is this Ms. Donna Abear?"

"Yes..."

"Donna...may I call you Donna?"

"Yes..." (I always let them call me by my first name because, hey—I'm popular, not stuck up).

"Donna, because you are a PREFERRED CUSTOMER (Ms. Popular) with an EXCELLENT CREDIT HISTORY (good personality), we would like to offer you the Frank's Foot Long Gold Card with a credit line of $50,000. There is no paperwork to fill out because you are PRE-APPROVED (good looking)."

"I'm sorry, but not right now. I already have the Bill's Red Hot Express Card. Not that I don't like Frank's Foot Long—it just seems fickle to have both. Maybe next time."

Of course in the beginning, I rarely said no. OK, I admit it—I was flattered by all the attention. Visa? I'll take it. MasterCard? Give me two. Marshall Fields? Yeah, baby! Victoria's Secret? Sure, my husband will definitely want that one.

I began playing the field, acquiring cards and transferring balances like there was no tomorrow. And each time I did, my popularity seemed to increase even more! I guess you could say it was just like the concept, "The rich get richer," only in my case it was "The popular get popularer." Or something like that.

They began to pursue me even more aggressively, sending me blank checks for cash advances, mailed in plain white envelopes with seductive notes inside that said things like:

"You've had your eye on that new furniture for several months now, HAVEN'T YOU, but you just couldn't afford it. You thought it was out of reach, DIDN'T YOU? Well, because you are a PREFERRED CUSTOMER (Ms. Popular), not to mention PRE-APPROVED (good looking), you are eligible for a $5,000 cash advance. C'mon—what have you got to lose? Just do it!"

But there came a time when this whirlwind of credit card popularity began to seem empty (not to mention how empty my bank account was getting trying to pay off all those balances). I started to feel cheap. I think the word had gotten out to the credit card community that Ms. Donna Abear, PREFERRED CUSTOMER (Ms. Popular), was easy. How else can you explain the nerve of the following phone call:

"Ms. Donna Abear?"

"Yes..."

"May I call you Donna?"

"Yes..."

"Donna, because you are a PREFERRED CUSTOMER (Ms. Popular), we would like to offer you the TOYS R US Gold Card."

I hung up on them. Hmpff! A Toys R Us credit card in a house with four children! Hey—I may be easy, but I'm not crazy!

Cooking by the Book

Enjoy 'Old Mill' bread sticks

"Recipes from the Old Mill—Baking with Whole Grains" was compiled by two sisters, Sarah E. Myers and Mary Beth Lind. The pair grew up in the mid-1950s in West Virginia and look back with nostalgia on the water-powered grist mill that graced their family's property. This workman-like collection of 180 recipes is for a variety of breads, cakes and rolls.

Rye Bread Sticks with Caraway Seeds are light and easy to fix.

Rye Bread Sticks with Caraway Seeds

1 pkg. dry yeast
1 1/4 cup warm water
1/4 cup oil
3 T. sugar
1/2 tsp. salt
2 cups rye flour
1 T. caraway seeds

Glaze

1 egg yolk, beaten
1 T. milk

In a mixing bowl, dissolve yeast in warm water. Let set for five minutes. Add oil, sugar, salt, rye flour and 1 T. caraway seeds. Beat until smooth. Cover and let rise in warm place about 40 minutes.

Stir in flour, 1/2 cup at a time. Then turn out on lightly floured board and knead until smooth and elastic, about five to eight minutes. Divide dough into 12 to 18 pieces, depending on desired size of bread sticks. Shape each piece into a rope about 6 to 8 inches long. Place about 2 inches apart on greased baking sheet. Cover and let rise about 30 minutes.

Combine egg yolk and milk and brush on bread sticks. Sprinkle with additional caraway seeds, if desired. Bake in 400 degree oven for 12 to 15 minutes or until done. Serve hot, or cool on racks covered with kitchen towel. Store airtight in cool place, or freeze and reheat.—by TOM WITOM

Murphy close, but no cigar in come-back picture

The adage, "There's nothing new under the sun," often applies to movie storylines, so surprise, surprise—"A Vampire in Brooklyn," featuring a "comic" blood connoisseur, arrives on the Hollywood scene, ready for release around Halloween.

Comedian Eddie Murphy, who has been a long time between hit pics, tries for a career resurrection with this bloodsucker's return in this slightly above average, sometimes funny, fear-some flick, originally written by his brother Charlie Murphy.

The movie moguls at Paramount decided that the "twisted mind" of mayhem master Wes Craven was needed in the director's chair. Angela Bassett, who is capable of award-winning performances, adds her pretty face in the role of Murphy's vampire love, a lady detective whom he meets while he's searching for a toothsome mate during his trip to the New York borough.

Murphy's vampire is greasy looking with a Caribbean accent, which may be a try for a desperately needed image renovation. He obviously never intended a "Comedy King" return to Hollywood's "reel" big draws since he does more dramatic emoting, leaving the big laughs up to Kadeem Hardison who plays a cocaine dealing buffoon. The scene where his body literally rots away while he has a smile on his face is a real classic.

With a slight touch of some of the comic genius of past EM characterizations in better movies like "Trading Places," Murphy brings three very different roles to life.

We have the two humans,

Preacher Pauly, and Guido, a sleazy mobster, plus the title role of the fanged and frolicky, but never fearsome, Maxmillian, played in the old-time Karloff-Lugosi tradition, flowing cape, flames and all.

Murphy and Bassett get down and dirty with some pretty heated sexual encounters despite her human suitor, played by Allen Payne.

There are a very few horrifically memorable scenes and lots of mediocre meanderings, these due to the less than spectacular script.

In this movie, as in many of his recent film offerings, Murphy's smooth, smart-alecky polish has lost its power to evoke hysterical laughter as it did back in the 1980s, but it was then that we laughed to a breathless state at a lot of drug-hyped TV comedy, all of which doesn't seem that funny anymore.

We're giving "Vampire" 2.5 out five stars because it's not a great "Comedy of Terrors." Save it for video fare if you're a Murphy fan.—by GLORIA DAVIS

Horoscope

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Your social life really picks up now as you swing into gear for the coming holidays. Singles find a new romance just waiting in the wings. However, don't let all this frivolity distract you from work to be done.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) It's time to spiff up your home for the company you expect to show up in a few weeks. However, your major focus early in the week should be on your career. A friend's advice arrives in the nick of time this weekend.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) You're here, there and everywhere as you tackle what needs to be done in a blaze of activity. Your energy is enviable now. A nasty co-worker has nothing much to contribute, so steer clear. The weekend accents quiet times.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Start making social plans now for how you want to spend the upcoming holidays. Don't be afraid to do something out of the ordinary and non-traditional. A vexing problem at work has you upset later in the week.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) You and your significant other find yourself in total agreement now over mutual concerns. However, this doesn't extend itself into the financial area as you feel this person has been spending too much.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Surprises and mysteries dominate this week. However, what ultimately results is to your benefit. A child needs some tender, loving care and comes to you to fulfill this. Your attention turns to work this weekend.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) You finally learn the meaning of the saying, "It's not what you know but whom you know." Don't let this go to your head. Remember, true achievement and hard work are what bring personal satisfaction.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) It's necessary for you to be a bit more flexible this week as unexpected problems crop up both at home and at work. However, you tackle these with self-confidence and assurance. Rely on your common sense and intuition.

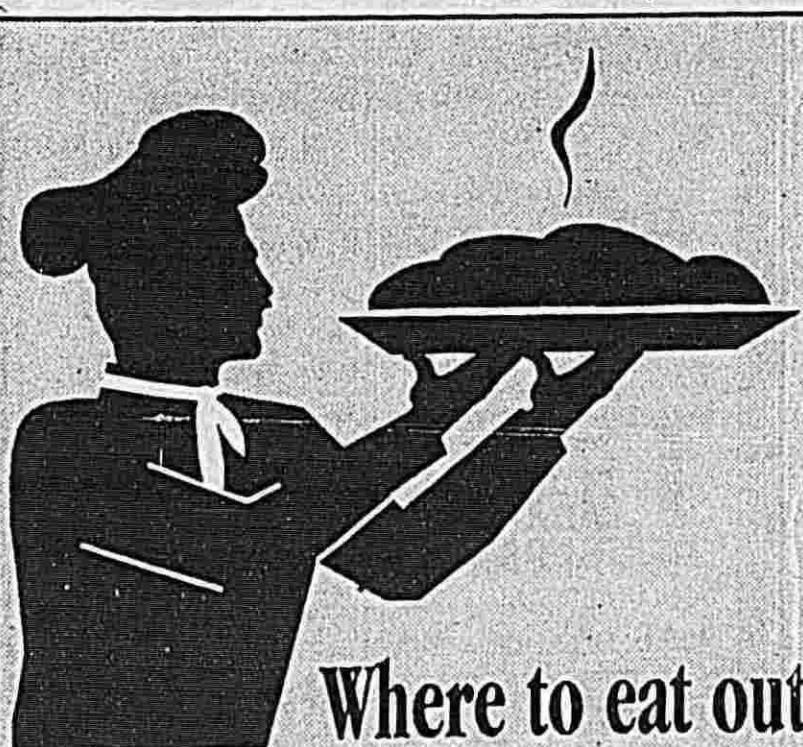

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) The watchword of the week is compromise. Listen carefully to those who have a different viewpoint and then look to see how you can integrate it with your own. Ultimately success is achieved by doing this.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) You must avoid a tendency early in the week to be too self-insistent. Stamping your feet and going off half-cocked isn't in your best interest. Later in the week, you tackle tasks with alacrity.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) A negotiation of a financial nature doesn't go your way early in the week. However, this later reverses itself. Don't be afraid to change a travel plan made sometime ago. This trip isn't in your best interest.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Meetings and appointments should be followed up on since they can lead to bigger and better things for you. A major decision needs to be made on the home front. Seek input from family members on this dilemma.

Boardwalk Pub perfect for a casual night out

Winter is coming, which means we'll soon be trying to avoid trudging through the snow outside. What better place to spend your indoor time and avoid "cabin fever" than at the Boardwalk Pub, a casual restaurant and lounge located at 40581 Bluff Lake Rd. in Antioch (in Old Port Cove Marina).

The Boardwalk Pub is observing its "off season" hours and is open on Fridays for dinner from 4 p.m. to midnight and Saturdays for lunch and dinner, from noon to midnight.

Start your meal with a number of tasty appetizers, including buffalo wings, homemade seasoned bacon skins, calamari rings, and mushroom and mozzarella sticks, among others.

Patrons at the Boardwalk, which seats approximately 75, rave about the Friday "Ethnic Buffet" which features either German, Italian, All-American, or Mexican cuisine. The all-you-can-eat Fish Fry from 5 to 9 p.m. is another popular choice. Prime Rib from 5 to 10 p.m. and all-you-can-eat Fried Shrimp dinners include soup and salad bar. Thin crust pizza has been added to the menu for Friday and Saturday. The regular Saturday menu also includes delicious entrees like fillets, ribs, hamburgers, chicken, and a Mexican section of the menu. For those watching their waists, Boardwalk Pub also has a "lite" menu. Children have their own menu, too, with an average meal costing around $2.50.

For those friendly get-togethers with friends for appetizers and drinks, you can be seated at the Pub's full-size bar, which seats 30 people.

The atmosphere at Boardwalk Pub is lighthearted and fun. There's a pool table, darts, table games, and a juke box to keep you entertained and for friendly competition.

Boardwalk Pub is available for on and off premise catering for 50 to 1,000 people and is perfect for holiday get-togethers, office parties, birthday parties, or any special occasion. Call Barb or Marlene at 395-8335 for further information.

The restaurant features two candlelit dining rooms with three levels of dining and seating for up to 110 as well as a newly redecorated meeting and banquet facility with seating for up to 150.

Madison Avenue is family-owned and operated by Marilyn Eccles and her sons Kevin and Kit. The restaurant features American cuisine with dishes such as chicken, ribs, a variety of steaks, fresh fish, and one of their most selected entrees, prime rib. On Tuesday night, prime rib is offered for only $8.95, regularly $13.95, with your choice of soup or salad. With entrees chosen from the menu, you get soup or juice, salad, a hot loaf of bread, and your choice of potato.

You can start your meal with a number of tasty appetizers, including escargot (which gets rave reviews), BBQ ribs, crab caps (mushroom caps stuffed with crab), fresh veggie or fruit platters, shrimp cocktail, raw oysters, and Madison Avenue's house recipe, baked Oysters Madison. If you have room, try the excellent carrot cake or cheesecake for dessert.

At Madison Avenue you'll find a variety of featured items on the menu every day. In their lounge on Friday and Saturday nights, you can enjoy listening to a live piano bar, beginning at 8:30 p.m.

Experience Madison Avenue for yourself!

They're located in Waukegan at 34 N. Sheridan Rd., 662-6090, and are open Monday through Friday from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. for lunch, Monday through Thursday from 4 to 10 p.m. for dinner, Friday and Saturday from 4 to 11 p.m. for dinner, and Sunday from 3 to 9 p.m.

Newspapers

Lipservice is a phone-in column presented as a feature of Lakeland Newspapers. Lakeland Newspapers makes no claim to the authenticity of the statements. Lakeland Newspapers does not claim the content or the subject matter as fact, but as the personal opinion of the caller. Lakeland Newspapers reserves the right to edit copy or to refrain from printing a message. Call in at 223-8073 and leave your message 24-hours a day. Although the call is anonymous, please leave your village name.

We need more

Although the Round Lake Area sponsors a splendid DARE program for our children, we need more. Some people do have questions and hear rumors about where drugs are available, and where suppliers are. Yet they have little knowledge of how to deal with the information to stomp out drugs in Round Lake. People need to know that there is a number they can call to report drug solicitation without having to be exposed to those who deal drugs. We need a column to print questions and answers. What about it, Lakeland Newspapers? Interview the police or ask someone from DARE to start a column in your paper. What a great feeling you'll have to know you're helping to overcome drugs in our area.

Clean up your act

To the village officials of Wauconda, in the Oct. 13 Lipservice I read about the waste of money dealing with police vehicles that are being driven home by members of the police department. If you only knew how much of a liability and waste this is, there are four vehicles involved, and at least three of them have been observed with drunks behind the wheels. It's time to clean up your act, Wauconda!

Puppet masters

To all Wauconda Dist. 118 parents, it will make no difference who gets elected, because the board will be puppets for the superintendent and his gang of child destroyers. The Board of Education is afraid of the teachers and staff. It's time to take our schools back from the likes of the superintendent and his pirates.

It was a kick

and the guys and gals of Grant Jr. Varsity soccer team. They took first place in the conference after only their second year. You did a great job. I hope next year more fans come out to watch. Great job, everyone!

Don't penalize kids

Bravo to the reader from Grayslake Dist. 46 who complained about the elimination of holidays. I, too, am offended by the superintendent's decisions. She spends too much time and effort being politically correct. She doesn't want any kids to be excluded and because eight kids couldn't participate in the Halloween activities last year, she has canceled the usual school holiday programs. The parents, not the school, excluded their own children by their choice. Why should 2,000 students be penalized by the voluntary choice of these parents? While the superintendent has tried to please these few, she has politically made an error in the decision for all the others.

Psych!

There was an announcement in the paper that Grayslake was looking for suggestions on a name for the new school being built by Lexington, and if anybody had suggestions, they could call. I called Monday morning with a suggestion and was told one was already made. Why make an announcement to get ideas if you're not going to listen to them?

Adopt dress code

I have a suggestion that will eliminate a lot of problems in the school systems. I believe there should be a uniform dress code for every school in the state consisting of dark slacks or pants, light-colored blouses, shirts, or sweaters. I believe this has a four-fold effect: It will be far less expensive for families, it will stop the clothing competition, it will reduce the chance for gang influences, and it will allow students to concentrate more on their studies and less on each other. I believe this will be a great benefit to all involved.

Canines protect

Child abductions from homes would stop if more people had a dog in the house. See your dog shelter or pound for your 24-hour intruder alarm.

Lakeland

Where's survey?

I'm from Antioch and last July Lakeland Newspapers published an article highlighted a marketing firm which would send a survey to all U.S. Cable households on behalf of the county, to determine input regarding the opinions and service level of U.S. Cable of Lake County, and whether they would renew the contract or not. This was supposed to be done by the end of summer. It's now fall and we have yet to receive a survey in our mailbox. Did they only send them to satisfied customers? Does anyone know anything about the status of this?

Police chauffer

I'm a citizen of Hainesville and would like to know why my hard-earned tax dollars are used to drive a police car to O'Hare Airport on Oct. 22 to pick up the mayor? I think it's outrageous that I should have to pay taxes for things like that. With our squad car down there, that means we have no police protection. I think it's outrageous.

Look again

To the person who called in saying the Miss Undenhurst pictures were hanging in the Village Hall, you'd better look again. Those are past mayors. There are only four pictures hanging. Stop lying to the public. Maybe Lakeland should be sent to take pictures. I'd bet they'd get hung real quick!

Educate the boys

I'm a senior citizen who lives in Fox Lake. I'm greatly concerned over what I'm seeing regarding sex education for young children in our schools. I see that all the responsibility is dumped on the girl. We've got to change our thinking about the privileges of men and boys. It's not their privilege to force themselves on people to satisfy their desires. We've got to teach them respect, responsibility, and restraint. Let's start educating our young men.

Think of others

The topic is CB interference in telephones and televisions. In the Feltzer subdivision in Antioch there's someone in a rented bungalow who has a ground plane antenna on top of their building, which is interfering with television and can screw up 911 calls. I don't know what to do. I would appreciate some answers.

Thanks

Thank you, Round Lake Beach, for the lights. We appreciate them greatly!

The great debate. There were less than 30 people that attended the Meet the Candidates Night for the Gavin School Board candidates. If you subtract the candidates and their spouses, the master of ceremonies and his family, the board members in attendance not up for election and their spouses, you're down to a handful of people. Now deduct the employees that work for the school and the teachers, you'll find out almost everyone in attendance had a vested interest. This was so important that the superintendent didn't show up. Why wasn't the community there?

More open mail

I want to say we also have received Island Lake mail that has been opened. What can we do about this?

So far, so good

It looks like the Round Lake Beach building department is getting its act together. You don't have to wait two months to get a permit, and even the costs are down (if just a little bit). Let's see if this continues next year. If it doesn't, there won't be any contractors working in this town.

Do we really want?

I want to say that I took my kids to the pumpkin farm at O'Plaine and Rte. 120. I drove by there on my way home from work and was sitting in traffic and realized that there will be more houses, more traffic, more overcrowding at Warren High School and the area and more of Bob Depke telling us this is what we want. I don't agree with this.

Should've had help

In regard to the unfortunate accident in Fox River Grove, maybe there should have been an instructor with her if the driver wasn't familiar with the route. We hope this will never happen again.

McKeever is OK

I'm calling from Undenhurst and want to thank Chief McKeever from the Undenhurst Police Department. I made a confidential report and want to thank him for the care and concern he showed. He even called the next day to make sure everything was okay.

Rope, not dope

I'm calling in response to the guy in Lipservice who said marijuana should be legalized because God made it for a reason. You're right, God did make it for a reason.

Marijuana is a hemp plant and God made it to be used for rope.

Found a mistake

I was reading the Oct. 27 paper and I had a question as to why the Grant Twp. Road Commissioner would fear a problem being alleviated. I'd also like to know what idiot hired the moron who does your proofreading.

No open lunch

I'm calling from Antioch as a parent for kids in Antioch High School. With all the traffic congestion around Rte. 83, especially around the high school, they would be out of their minds to let Antioch High School students out for lunch. The traffic is already bad, but try to drive Rte. 83 by the school when kids are there. They run in front of the cars, in between the cars, and loiter on the curbs. On more than one occasion I have seen this. This is another instance when good kids have to suffer because of a few bad kids. Keep the students on campus before someone gets hurt or worse.

Company expansion, relocation offers economic boost

SUZIE REED

Staff Reporter

Beer Across America is gearing up for the holiday season with not only a new expanded facility, but also gourmet offerings for wine lovers and coffee drinkers.

The company, first incorporated in 1991, has grown by leaps and bounds. Todd Holmes and Louis Amoroso, now both 28, who grew up together in Barrington, founded the first company that distributed regional micro-brewed beer on a national scale, according to Mark Driggs, public relations contact for Beer Across America.

"It's really been an exciting couple of years in terms of growth," he said. "Almost unmanaged growth—it's a good problem to have."

That growth prompted a move from the original location in Cary to a 90,000-square-foot facility in Enterprise Pointe at Hwy. 41 and Rte. 176 in Lake Bluff. The facility has been up and running for a couple of weeks, said Driggs.

"They've doubled out previous space in Cary," he said. "They've moved all the warehouse, the distribution facility and the offices."

What this means for the economy in surrounding villages is new jobs. The company currently employs 125 people to process incoming orders and 60 telemarketers.

"They will be hiring 300 people in December to help with the holiday crunch," explained Driggs. "It will be a nice boost to the economy."

Beer Across America offers selections from more than 150 microbreweries, ranging from special lagers, to ales and bock, said Driggs.

"Beer of the Month" shipments are available from two to 12 times a year. Orders always include a newsletter with recipes and background on the selection.

"Micro-brewed beer is so hot right now," said Driggs. "People are drinking fewer alcoholic beverages. They look for quality, much more full-bodied, flavorful beers."

"They are hoping to reach 120,000 members after the holiday season," said Driggs.

Since January, the company has also offered "Coffee Quest" and "International Wine Cellars."

"The coffee industry has grown tremendously," he said. New medical updates on heart disease have also prompted an increase in the consumption of red wine, he added.

The three divisions of Beer Across America offer telephone ordering. For Beer Across America call 1-800-854-2337 (BEER). The number for the International Wine Cellars program is 1-800-333-9463 (WINE). Coffee Quest can be reached by calling 1-800-205 5282 (JAVA).

Ambition and work ethic pay off in success

BILL SCHROEDER

For enterprising youths in foreign lands seeking opportunity and adventure, America still offers irresistible allure.

That is how a desire for self-respect and a new career brought Syed K. Hussain to Chicago in 1968, leaving behind a future of comfortable employment in a family-owned enterprise, ties to his native India and life in a small city near Bombay.

"I was the younger brother," explained Hussain, as he outlined a one-time future in a business started by his father after World War II manufacturing fabrics sold to the bedding and clothing industry.

The restless youth had obtained a college degree in commerce, but he yearned to strike out on his own.

Hussain, single at the time, acquired a background in computer science and obtained a job working for a Chicago company producing computer components. But his entrepreneurial zeal led him to seek a business of his own.

He summoned his bride from India and the couple settled in Rolling Meadows in a typical suburban three-bedroom home where they still reside.

"My wife encouraged me," Hussain stated, recalling Sunday drives to the suburbs seeking a business to purchase.

ed in Lakeland Plaza shopping center.

"I liked the business from the start because I could use my background in commerce and provide a public service," related Hussain, 52.

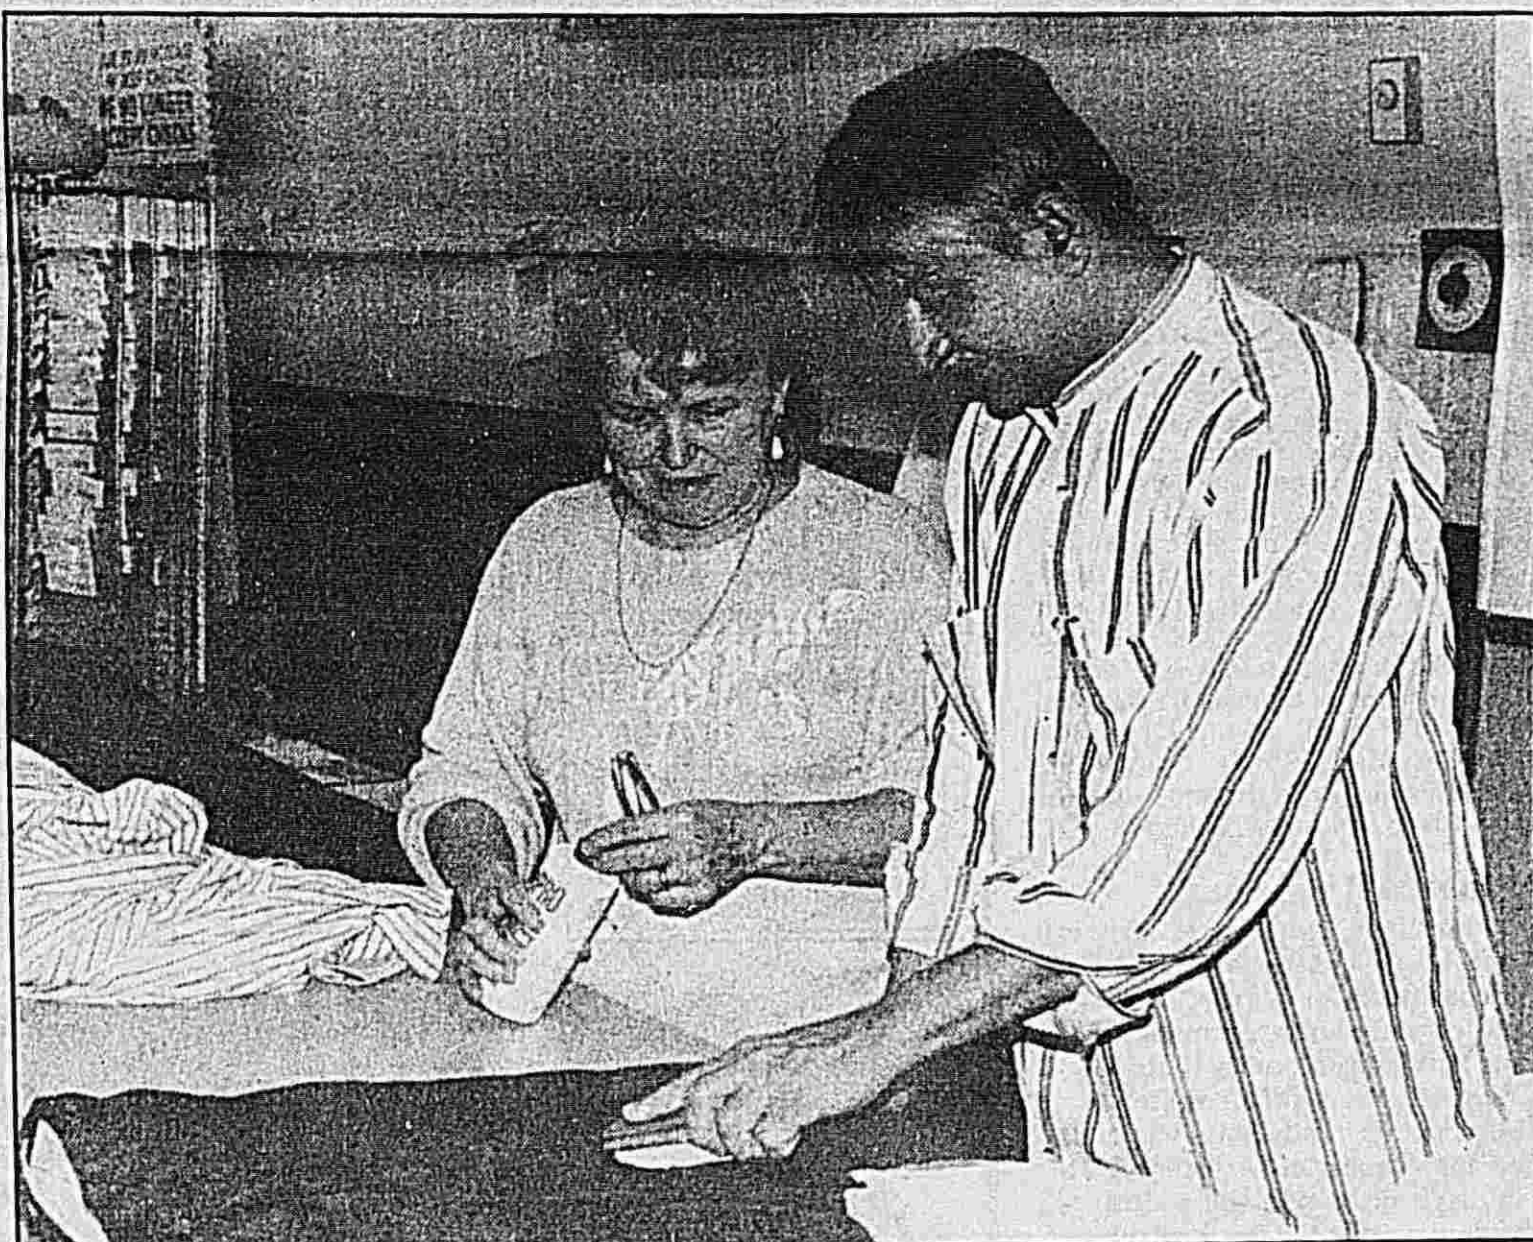

With an ethic for hard work ingrained from his father and an older brother, Hussain said seven-day work weeks paid off and he eventually was able to add another outlet in Round Lake.

Hussain said the friendliness he originally encountered as a student in Chicago carried through to relations with customers as his two locations.

"I am in a very competitive field, but I try to impress on my customers that I am an expert and that they should entrust their clothing to my care," he said.

Ever the optimist, Hussain repeated an old Indian saying to explain how he doesn't always See SUCCESS page C4

Internships help students make career choices

During the summer of 1995, more than 200 college students from across the country worked as interns at Abbott Laboratories. In 1994, Abbott's summer internship program was selected as one of the country's best in "America's Top 100 Internships," published by Random House.

Students from nearly 70 colleges and universities who are pursuing bachelor's, master's, master's of business, doctorate, medical, legal and veterinary degrees held paid internships in areas such as science, accounting, engineering, marketing and computer science.

"It's rewarding to see students who recognize the value and wealth of experience available to them at Abbott," said Abbott College Relations Manager Jean Jackson-Swopes, Ph.D. "Everyone wins when the students take full advantage of these experiences to advance their personal and academic careers."

Thirty-nine of the summer interns were placed at Abbott through the Inroads Minority Internship Program. Inroads, a national program, places minority youth in business and industry and prepares them for corporate and community leadership. In addition, it gives students year-round training for the corporate world through workshops, academic support and counseling.

Sponsoring companies, such as Abbott, make a four to five year commitment to give the Inroad interns paid summer employment that provides hands-on experience. Abbott volunteers serve as mentors, making themselves available to confer with students. The company has participated in the Inroads program for 12 years.

Student interns were employed at Abbott facilities in Lake County, Columbus, Ohio and Irving, Texas.

Work begins at Green Oaks center

Mark D. Christensen, senior vice president, principal of Hiffman Shaffer Associates' Development Group, has announced that groundbreaking ceremonies have been held for a 197,000-square foot, multi-tenant office and warehouse facility, the first building at Green Oaks Business Center in Green Oaks. HSA is the developer of the project.

Green Oaks Business Center is a 25-acre parcel of land to be developed into an industrial complex totaling over 400,000 square feet. The project is located in east-central Lake County, on the corner of Rte. 176 (Rockland Road) and Bradley Road, just east of the I-94 Tri-State Tollway. The 197,000-square foot distribution building is the first phase of development and will be divisible. Features include 28 foot ceilings, 22 exterior truck docks with levelers, ESFR sprinkler system and parking for over 250 vehicles.

The design of the structure allows for office build-outs to suit, and, if needed, the building can be connected to the second phase of development to create a 425,000-square foot warehouse and distribution facility. The center's location provides businesses with easy access to major highways, low Lake County taxes and a diverse labor market. Project completion is scheduled for spring 1996.

Douglas Reed, vice president, and C.L. Bothof, Jr., vice president of Hiffman Shaffer Associates, Inc., are marketing the project. The design/build general contractor is Kiferbaum Construction Corp., represented in this project by Paul Chuma, Jr., vice president; Adam Miller, project engineer; and John Helgesen, senior superintendent. The project architect is Stephen Saunders of Eckenhoff Saunders Architects.

BUSINESS EVENTS

Homeowners seminars

Coldwell Banker of Libertyville will be conducting seminars for the benefit of homeowners who have elected to undertake the task of selling their home themselves. The informational seminar is designed to instruct sellers in the areas of contracts, legal obligations, credit review, survival of a home inspection, preparation of the home and marketing. Guest speakers will include Betsy Wolf Friestedt of Ray and Glick, Kevin Freely and Nancy Cooper of The Home Team Inspection Service and Dave Areen PNC Mortgage.

The seminar is being offered on Saturdays, Nov. 18. This community service is being offered free of charge to homeowners who are planning to sell in the future or are currently attempting "For Sale By Owner." Seating is limited. Contact Florence Emling at Coldwell Banker, 367-4900 to reserve a seat. Each seminar will begin at 10 a.m. and will be held at the Lake County Assessor's office, 359 Merrill Ct., Libertyville.

Bio-Green presentation

Bio-Green, Inc., will host a public presentation on "Safe and Non-toxic Tree, Shrub, and Lawn Care." Topics addressed include: what is the status of the environment and where is it going; is your lawn care safe for you, your family, and friends; choosing a soil building program as an investment in your family's health and your home's asset value; and health and safety of you, your family and friends.

The presentation will be Tuesday, Nov. 14, 7 p.m., at the Libertyville Civic Center, 135 W. Church St., Libertyville. Refreshments will be served. To register call (800) 476-2696.

Financial seminar

Northern Trust Bank/O'Hare will offer a two-day seminar on "Financial Preparedness for Women." It will take place from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Nov. 14, at the Park Ridge Country Club, 636 N. Prospect. The seminar will enhance participants' understanding of the complex issue of estate planning. This in-depth discussion will address the various techniques available to reduce estate taxes, distribute wealth and safeguard a family's future. Lunch will be served at noon. There is no cost for attending the seminars. For reservations and further information, call Kerry Webber at (312)444-7056.

Women in Management

The Lake Suburban Chapter of Women in Management is privileged to have Sandra L. Derickson, president of General Electric Capital Auto Lease, as the presenter at its Nov. 15 meeting. The topic "Achieving Consensus Through Team Communication" is one on which Derickson is well qualified to speak. As one of only three women to head firms in the 22 General Electric subsidiaries, Derickson has extensive experience in developing and leading various teams. The dinner meeting will be held at Gorky's Restaurant located at Rte. 176 and Waukegan Road in Lake Bluff. Networking begins at 5:30 p.m. and dinner is at 6 p.m. Call 295-0370 for reservations by Nov. 13. Cost is $15 for members and $20 for non-members.

Technical meeting

The November technical session of the Illinois Northeast Chapter of the Institute of Management Accountants will be held Wednesday, Nov. 15 at the Hans Bavarian Lodge in Wheeling. Dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m. and the program will follow the dinner. The topic for the program is "1995 Tax Update." The speaker will be Mary Lou Pier, partner, Olson and Pier Certified Public Accountants. The cost of the dinner with an advance reservation is $18 for members and guests ($10 for students). Without reservations, the cost will be $20 ($12 for students). It is not necessary to attend the dinner to participate in the technical session. Continuing Educational Credit will be awarded to holders of CMA, CPA or other certificates. To make reservations, call Donna Cardwell at 938-8277 by noon, Monday, Nov. 13.

Executives breakfast

The Young Executives Club breakfast will be held Nov. 16 at 7:30 a.m. at the University Club, The Charter Room, 76 E. Monroe St., Chicago. John Zapp, DDS, executive director of the American Dental Assn. will address the meeting. Dr. Zapp became executive director of the American Dental Assn. in March 1993. Under his leadership, the association is launching an informational service on the Internet that will enable members to "plug in" to the ADA from their personal computers. Prior to joining the ADA, Dr. Zapp directed the American Medical Assn.'s lobbying team for 20 years and was involved in the AMA management team at the executive level. For further information, call (312)853-0186.

Network USA

The Northern Lake County Chapter of the Network USA will be holding its weekly meeting at Gorky's Restaurant, Rtes. 43 and 176, in Lake Bluff. The Nov. 15 meeting will feature Chris Stevens, director of the Private Industry Council of Lake County. The PIC is a joint effort between government and local businesses to provide training services and job placement to individuals who have barriers to society. Some of the other services are on the job training GED courses and youth services.

MURPHY ON REAL ESTATE

Terri Murphy

Think before adding improvements

Family needs will often foster thoughts of adding improvements to our homes to make us more comfortable, or to add convenience. There is a need to help a homeowner understand the "value added" theory. When money is invested in certain items, recovery at the time of sale may or may not be a reality.

Swimming pools are a good example of a costly investment that doesn't necessarily make a property attractive to the next buyer. In ground pools are expensive and require special equipment for heating, cleaning and seasonal maintenance. To some buyers, the maintenance is a negative, as well as the increase in home utility and insurance costs. Pools often require special fencing as well, which adds to the cost of the total investment.

Above ground pools present another issue. As they are more easily removable, a prospective buyer may request the removal of the pool and restoration of the yard area as a condition of the sale. The manner in which the above ground pool is constructed has influence on the recoverability. Some pools have an elaborate, more permanent decking, making the structure look more permanent, and more attractive. This is only attractive to a buyer that wants a pool, and finds value to having one on the property.

Finished basements are another improvement to think through before investing. Home buyers in family oriented neighborhoods typically want a basement recreation room for the kids. Michael Sullivan of Realty Valuation Services appraisal firm in Libertyville has done thousands of appraisals in family oriented neighborhoods. According to Sullivan, in the $3,000 to $5,000 range of investment, one can expect to recover up to 100 percent of the costs. Sullivan goes on to say, "A higher quality finish beyond $3,000 to $5,000 has a much lower incremental value of up to 40 to 60 percent of costs." Walk-out basements that are finished are more likely to recover the investment than a regular basement.

Other improvements like hot tubs, dance floors, gazebos and saunas, although nice to have, may not be of value to the new buyer. Extra bathrooms, fireplaces and some room additions may contribute more to the overall value and add hard dollars to the home's market value.

Cosmetic improvements will help the home be more attractive, but not necessarily be recouped dollar for dollar. New carpeting and fresh paint help sell the home faster and for a price closer to true market value when compared to a similar home with worn and dated colors.

Know that the improvements you put in your home are mainly for your own personal enjoyment and use, and may or may not yield more money at the closing table.

Mike Formica, manager of Ace Hardware in Gurnee, accepts a plaque from Rick Schell, retail consultant for the corporation. The dealer was honored for attaining and maintaining high retail standards.

Gurnee Ace dealer wins customer service award

Mike Formica of Ace Hardware in Gurnee has received an engraved plaque recognizing his store as a premier hardlines dealer in his market area, and saluting the store's commitment to its customers. To receive the plaque, Ace Hardware in Gurnee had to meet 20 high performance retail standards, including excellent customer service, merchandise assortment, trained store personnel, convenient hours and participation in the Ace retail program.

Presented by Ace Hardware Corp., the plaque honors the staff at Ace Hardware in Gurnee for its consistent excellence in practicing retail standards and for its determination to continue to meet high retail standards. It also attests to the staff's commitment to a process which the company calls The New Age of Ace, an acceleration of Ace 2000, whose goal is to have Ace dealers become the best independent hardware, home center and lumber and building material retailers in the hardware and home improvement industry by the year 2000.

The plaque, engraved with the store's name, reads: "This store's mission is to provide the best possible service and satisfaction to you, its customer, by offering a wide selection of quality products at good value, adhering to the highest retail standards, supporting this community and our country, and encouraging sound environmental practices."

Success

please customers when he encounters soils or stains that can't be removed.

"You can't raise a dead man," is the native axiom Hussain applies to cleaning tasks that can't be done successfully.

He hasn't forgotten lessons learned in his homeland, especially the importance of family involvement. Thus his son, 16, and daughter, 15, both students at Fremd High School, and his wife, who couples family business bookkeeping with full-time employment in an insurance brokerage, are regular members of his nine-person staff.

Hussain brushes aside a lock of unruly gray hair as he stresses that dedicated employees are a key to his success. Hilda Grossmann of Ingleside, Fox Lake manager, and Gerry Vaughn and Dorothy Matthew of Round Lake, all are long-time employees.

Staff dedication and loyalty paid off this past summer when the Hussain family returned to India to visit relatives and included a religious pilgrimage to Jeddah. They are practicing Muslims and attend services regularly at mosques in Chicago and Rolling Meadows.

Hussain chuckles when asked to compare life in India and the United States.

"My family in India has a false impression of the U.S. They think everyone is like the Rockefellers. They think everyone has an easy life," he said.

Hussain is amused as he explains that he gave up a life in the upper level of India's ingrained caste system for a "very middle class" lifestyle in the U.S., where hard work is the byword of success.

He and his family all are American citizens. He good-naturedly refrained from making comparisons between U.S. politics and India's system of parliamentary democracy.

"I work hard. I have no time for politics," he admitted. "But I vote and my children will vote when they are qualified."

Taking pride in his heritage, Hussain pointed out that Indians are noted for hard work, the value of higher education and a strong sense of family.

"You'll note that most of the Indians coming to the U.S. are either professionals like engineers and doctors, or in business. You won't see Indians getting in trouble. We are too busy working," he laughed.

That was a convenient point to conclude an interview as Hussain dug into a stack of dry cleaning.

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that pursuant to a Judgment of Foreclosure and Sale entered in the above cause on July 26, 1995, The Judicial Sales Corporation will at 9:00 a.m. on December 1, 1995, at the front steps of the Lake County Courthouse, located at 18 North County Street, Waukegan, IL 60085, sell at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, as set forth below, the following described real estate:

PARCEL 1: Lot 1 in Block 5 in Townhouses on Meadow Green Unit Four, a subdivision of part of the Northwest Quarter of Section 17, Township 45 North, Range 10, East of the Third Principal Meridian, according to the Plat Thereof recorded February 7, 1983, as Document Number 2197707, in Lake County, Illinois.

PARCEL 2: Easement for Ingress and Egress for the use and benefit of Parcel 1 over, along and across the community area, as created by the Declaration recorded June 3, 1982 as Document Number 2162738, supplemented by Declaration recorded October 5, 1982 as Document Number 2180017, in Lake County, Illinois.

Commonly known as 455 Meadowgreen Lane, Round Lake Beach, IL 60073.

PIN # 06-17-117-033

The real estate is improved with a townhouse.

The judgment amount was $69,360.47.

Sale terms: 10% down by certified funds; the balance, by certified funds, is due within twenty-four (24) hours. The subject property is subject to general real estate taxes, special assessments or special taxes levied against said real estate and is offered for sale without any representation as to quality or quantity of title and without recourse to Plaintiff. The sale is further subject to confirmation by the court.

Upon payment in full of the amount bid, the purchaser shall receive a Certificate of Sale, which will entitle the purchaser to a Deed to the real estate after confirmation of the sale.

For information contact Plaintiff's Attorney: CODILIS & ASSOCIATES, P.C., 7955 South Cass Avenue, Suite 114, Darien, IL 60559, (708) 241-4300. Please refer to file number 95-68.

How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

Q: Dear...Search: I have been unemployed for a short time and have been avidly applying for positions in and out of my field. The problem is I have recently encountered an employer who mentioned that I have written "terminated" as for my reasons for leaving my last three employers. I was shocked when he asked me why I had been fired and that did not look real good on my application. I explained to him that I terminated my employment. The word "terminated" refers to an end. Why would he assume that meant I was fired? R.G. - Libertyville.

A: Dear R.G. So as the employer will understand that there has been no wrong doing on your part, when asked about your reasons for leaving your employers be more specific so as to clarify that you terminated your own employment and for what ever reasons. If you left any of those employers for reasons other than the obvious...upward mobility and such, you should allow yourself the opportunity to explain instead of being read the wrong way. Most importantly remember that there are certain reasons for termination that are a turn off to employers. Examples of these are: Terminated for excessive absenteeism, left due to sexual harassment, involved in a lawsuit with an employer and other reasons for leaving which may be a threat to a future employer. Reasons for leaving...LESS IS MORE! And while you are trying to explain your reason for leaving your former employer...for whatever reason it may be...Never, never, never talk bad about them. The person interviewing you may see you as a problem waiting to happen. Hope this helps.

Q: Dear...Search: I have noticed that many positions advertised in the newspaper have been asking for a salary history to be sent along with my resume. Since there are many different positions I am willing to pursue at this point I would hate to limit myself on my resume by including a salary that may scare off other potential employers while reviewing my background. Is it proper for me to include a separate sheet to my resume which would outline my salary history, to be sent only to those requesting such information? J.C.K. - Lake Villa

A: Dear J.C.K. Yes it would be proper and wise. You are absolutely correct in assuming that you may knock yourself out of the picture to someone who may have viewed your salary at $35,000 thinking you are untouchable. When in essence you may be willing to accept a salary of $30,000 which could be workable. Only include salary history if requested.

PET OF THE WEEK

Oreo

"Oreo" is a black, male Chow mix, about two years old. A smaller mid-size, Oreo has a white bib, white toes, and a slightly shaggy, soft coat. Oreo's first owner docked his tail and chopped his ears, whether for convenience or a misguided sense of "fashion," it's hard to say. But we doubt that love motivated this kind of mutilation. Fortunately for Oreo, he has a beautiful face, a heart of gold, and isn't bitter about his shabby treatment. Oreo appears to be housebroken. He has a calm, docile personality, and is easy-going, affectionate and very friendly. We think it's about time that Oreo had the chance to put a sad past behind him, and to find at last, a good friend and a loving place to call home. He has waited patiently since April 1994, in Cage 49.

LAKE ZURICH 236 Jamie Ln. By owner. This 3,800sq.ft. builders home is a must see. 4-bedrooms, 3-full baths, Jacuzzi for 2 in master bedroom, oversized familyroom, livingroom, diningroom, 2-fireplaces, custom oak cabinets and moldings, hardwood floors, cathedral ceilings. Walk out to woods. $364,900. (708) 726-7840.

COGSWELL

The Cogswell, an average sized home at 1914 square feet is designed for a rear sloping lot. Keeping the master bedroom on the main floor was obtained, allowing for privacy from the other two remaining bedrooms.

People who enjoy the warmth and colorful flames of a wood fire will love the see-through fireplace, equally visible from the living room, dining room and kitchen. Ceramic tile, which wraps around the hearth, serves as spark-proof flooring while visually unifying the group living area. The same tile covers the entryway floor, and extends into the kitchen and sunny eating nook. Its moisture-proof qualities will come into play in these heavy traffic zones.

Built-in utilities are close to kitchen, garage, master suite, and the stairs to the basement bedrooms. A half-bath is also centrally located. The master suite has a large walk-in closet and private bath.

The Cogswell is a two story hillside home. The dining room and living room are vaulted. This feature, along with additional clerestory windows, creates a more spacious feel than dimensions seem to dictate.

Downstairs the two bedrooms share a bath with the large family room. Plenty of storage area for games and such is also downstairs.

For a study kit of the COGSWELL (401-57), send $10.00, to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307-LP60, Eugene, OR 97402 (Be sure to specify plan name & number). For a collection of plan books featuring our most popular home plans, send $20 to Landmark or call 1-800-562-1151.

BC Dog Training offers the following advice for keeping your pets in healthy and happy with good grooming habits:

- Your dog's fur coat supplies warmth by trapping air between the skin and the tips of the fur. In severe cold, additional protection is provided by small cutaneous muscles located at the base of each hair follicle; these contract and make the fur stand on end, increasing the amount of air trapped in the coat. Dogs can get frost bitten! Don't keep them outside for long periods in cold weather unless they have adequate shelter.

- Even shorthairs put on extra hair in winter. It will come out as soon as it's warm, so remember to schedule a grooming session or two every spring.

- During the winter, owners overheated houses may cause dogs to have dry skin. A canine skin oil, hot oil treatment given by a groomer or coat supplement should keep a dog's skin healthy.

- Like humans, dogs have two layers of skin, an outer layer (the epidermis) and an inner layer (the dermis). A dog's outer layer of skin is much thinner than a human's however, so he relies on his coat to keep him warm.

- Growth of a dog's fur is cyclical. It grows for short periods, rests, then dries and is shed. Length of the cycle varies with the breed, but on an average it takes about 130 days to grow a coat.

Tools of the trade

Rake—widely spaced teeth for removing serious tangles and dead hair from undercoats.

Curry comb—concentric ovals of flexible, nubbed plastic for smooth-coated dogs.

Hound glove—a mitt with a rough surface of horsehair or nylon on the palm used on short-haired dogs to remove dirt and give a nice shine to the coat.

Slicker brush—rectangular pad with flexible wire bristles for dense coats.

Pin brush—widely spaced bristles on a rubber cushion for removing dead hair.

Vikings find determination pays off big in loop

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

Eight years ago, Russ Kraly left the security of youth football coaching for the unpredictability of semi-professional football.

On Saturday night, Kraly and the Lake County Vikings gathered at the 50-yard line, hoisting a large Midwest Football League trophy.

Sheer determination and the Vikings had downed the nemesis Chicago Falcons 28-20, earning a spot in the semi-professional national tournament.

"We have a good mix of young and old. The biggest difference between youth football and semi-pro is in youth football, you have their attention. Here, you have to lead by motivation," Kraly said.

Kraly had high praises for his staff which helped guide the team to a 10-2 season and a national tourney game at home Nov. 11 vs. Sangamon County Tigers. Kickoff time at Round Lake High is 6 p.m.

Art Hart is the backs coach, Jim Hart directs the defensive line while Sam Toia (who coached two games Kraly could not make) is the offensive coordinator, Rip Appleby is the offensive line coach and John Tesch directs the defense.

"I met Rip at a coach's meeting at my house in February," Kraly said.

Appleby brought his two sons, Mark and Dave, who have been mainstays on defense.

"They both started in football at age 7. They played on the same high school team in Marshalltown, Ky. That won a conference championship, too," Rip Appleby said.

"Our front line beat their front line and that is what made the passing game go," Coach Appleby said.

Joe Belcher, who was a dominating lineman when he played at the Round Lake field as a prep, Willie Sykes, a 36-year-old Milwaukee school security guard; veteran Eric Disch, Earl Henning and Rich Mason all gave QB Walter Tesch plenty of time.

Jerry Nash is another player who has been on the Vikings for the long haul. "I have been calling him 'crutches' since he came back this year," Kraly said.

"This is the closest-knit group I have seen here in years," Kraly said.

"It was great — just the way we came and blended together. After losing to them in the final seconds of overtime, it was great to put it away," Bob Akers said.

Akers and a handful of players teamed up with Kraly for the start. An idea first discussed by staffers at Abbott Laboratories to bring back semi-professional football after a 10-year absence in Lake County indeed reached its to-date zenith on a cold night in November.

"After eight years and a lot of changes, this is awesome," wide receiver Frank Ruiz said.

This was Ruiz's first league championship after 12 years in football. He played for Waukegan West and signed up with the Vikings that debut season of 1987.

Lineman Sykes and Dwayne Alexander are among the Vikings who are former Milwaukee Express players who commute from Brewtown to make twice-weekly practices. See VIKINGS page C18

at Glen Ellyn as opposed to Grayslake.

The weather was different—about 20 degrees colder and snow flurries as College of Lake County sought its first regional women's soccer title in its first try.

But the score was the same as College of DuPage ousted the Lancers 2-0 on a snowy Sunday.

The Chapparals move on to the national tournament after ending the Lancers first season at 6-6.

"They all played hard," CLC Coach Mike O'Flaherty said. "But we were not quite alert for the first goal. The second goal I thought was offside."

Tammi Gradecki shutout DuPage in the second half, making many point-blank saves. Danielle Galligan and Jandee Running scored the DuPage first-half goals.

So the 1995 campaign is a memory for the Lancers, in the first season. Jennifer and Jamie Ross, Tricia Hendrichs, Debbie Maryevich and Gradecki will be looked upon as the team which got the sport going at the Grayslake junior college.

Players to watch for next year are led by Stevenson High graduate Sarah Stoutenberg.

Southlake opens doors to Total Fitness Concepts

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

Call it a marriage, of sorts, waiting to happen.

Long-time fitness friends Sal Catanese and Robert Bresloff are teaming up together to offer a mixture of physical fitness opportunities at Southlake Racquetball Club in Mundelein.

Catanese opened up the racquetball club in 1977 at a time when racquetball clubs were the mainstay in physical fitness improvement. In 1985 and 1986, he incorporated a fitness center with a variety of weight machines to accommodate the growing tide toward cardiovascular fitness.

Now Bresloff, a former member of the club, will be introducing his "Total Fitness Concepts" as he will be offering personal and one-on-one training to help people meet their specific health and fitness goals.

"We opened at a point in time when racquetball was really booming," Catanese said. "Since then it has tapered off, but we're the only predominantly racquetball club in Lake County."

Racquetball leagues, lessons and tournaments will still dominate for club members, but personal fitness training will be an added service offered to club members and outsiders alike.

"We still want to cater to the racquetball player, but we want to offer fitness for both our members and outsiders," Catanese said.

In comes Bresloff, who has been offering in-home training and personal training at other clubs. As a certified personal trainer, Bresloff arms himself with certifications with the International Sport Sciences Association and the National Federation of Professional Trainers.

"Fitness has always been a hobby and passion of mine," said Bresloff, who worked in the printing business for two decades while offering in-home training on the side. "I really care about my clients. I do this because I choose to do this. I left my profession of 20 years so I could do this."

Catanese will also be converting one of his eight racquetball courts into an upscale fitness center where Bresloff can specialize in his "Total Fitness Concepts."

As a certified personal trainer, Bresloff will assess individual fitness levels and supervise training sessions. He will offer weight loss programs, rehabilitation work, sport specific training as well as strength, muscular and aerobic conditioning.

"I see myself as the bridge between physical therapy and returning to fitness therapy," Bresloff said. "I would teach them how to work-out before they get into a full-blown workout."

Nowadays, he said, conditioning is more specific ranging from high school football studs seeking greater muscle development to older adults dealing with high blood pressure or arthritis.

"I see fitness going more sport specific," Bresloff said. "Now, there's more attention being paid to specific joints and muscle groups."

At the same time, Catanese provides a social atmosphere following a racquetball or fitness workout. At their disposal are saunas, Jacuzzis, locker rooms and a lounge.

"We're a place for adults who want to exercise and maybe sit down and have a drink afterwards," Catanese said. "We stress a lot of social activities after a workout."

Bresloff will also be offering a variety of seminars ranging from injury prevention and strength training to baseball coaching at Southlake or at interested See FITNESS page C18

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

Lake Zurich Bears fans had plenty to cheer about during the first half of the second round of the playoffs, but dreams of advancing to the third round quickly dwindled in the second half.

Everything was going Lake Zurich's way in the first 24 minutes, but Bolingbrook tailback Marcus Smith lived up to his reputation as to why he is the Chicagoland's leading rusher (2,215 yards) as the Raiders outlasted a 10-8 half-time deficit to defeat Lake Zurich 37-16.

"We won the first half," explained LZ Coach Wayne Kuklinski. "Unfortunately, you have to play two halves."

The Bears marched down the field on their first possession but were stopped short of the 20 when Chris Bocci's 40-yard field goal was wide right.

With 11:35 left in the second quarter, Koczersut put his head down, covered the ball and bulldozed ahead for the 8-yard touchdown.

Seven minutes later, Bocci converted his first of three field goals. His 24-yard field goal put Lake Zurich up 10-0 with 4:53 to play in the half.

A fumbled punt return, however, proved crucial as Bolingbrook recovered the ball at 18-yard line. On the next play, Smith scampered into the endzone and made good on the two-point conversion. Just like that, Bolingbrook was only down 10-8 at halftime.

"It would have been nice going into halftime 10-0, but he (Smith) is a load," Kuklinski said.

Smith (325 yards) and the Raiders immediately took charge in the second half.

In the first two minutes of the half, Smith broke free for a 58-yard gainer to the 5-yard line. He went on to score the touchdown and the conversion to give Bolingbrook its first lead at 16-10.

Lake Zurich battled back as Block picked away at the Bolingbrook corners. Again, he connected with Gehrke (6 catches for 118 yards) and Jacobs (5 catches, 60 yards) for big gains including a crucial fourth and 3.

"We thought we could throw at the corners and run up the middle. Eric did a great job," Kuklinski said. Block was 13-for-28 for 240 yards passing.

The Bears had to settle for a 27-yard field goal by Bocci.

Smith then plowed ahead to set up Antoine Harris' 35-yard scamper to paydirt. Smith's two-point conversion extended Bolingbrook's lead to 24-13.

Lake Zurich still did not give up. The Bears moved to within field goal range as Bocci booted a 17-yard field goal in the opening minute of the fourth quarter. Down 24-16, Lake Zurich was still hopeful.

"I really thought he was going to be a factor," Kuklinski said of Bocci's three field goals. "We needed to convert a few of those into touchdowns, but he came through for us."

Harris then was tripped up at the line, regained his balance and ran for a 41-yard touchdown for the back-breaker and 30-16 lead with five minutes to go.

"They're big, strong and they run hard," Kuklinski said. "I think they wore us at the end. But you saw a Lake Zurich team who played with them for an awful long time."

They played their hearts out."

Bolingbrook quarterback Jason Furmaniak went ahead three yards to seal the victory and end Lake Zurich's banner season.

"We came out really strong in the first half, and we really tried in the second half, but we couldn't get it done," said Koczersut, who scored LZ's only TD.

Lake Zurich finished 7-4, which included the school's first-ever playoff victory against Marshall High School in Chicago.

"It was great playing with this group of guys one more time," Koczersut said. "We've been together since little league football. That's what I'm going to miss."

Likewise, Kuklinski praised his team's efforts. A playoff berth looked skeptical after losing to McHenry during the regular season, but the Bears won their last two regular-season games to assure a playoff spot.

"After the McHenry game, it would have been easy to fold the tent and go home," Kuklinski said. "We have nothing to be ashamed of."

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

The Lake County Vikings are going national. To the national semi-professional football tournament, that is.

On a chilly Saturday in Round Lake, the Vikings held on for a 28-20 win over the Chicago Falcons. The win clinched the Midwest Football League title for the Vikings, the first in franchise history.

"We have come a long way in eight years. You work hard and hope it will happen. This is a dream come true," Vikings Coach Russ Kraly said.

The Vikings move on to the first round of national tourney play against Sagamon County Tigers at 6 p.m. Nov. 11. The game will be played at home of the Vikings, Round Lake High.

Mike Draper caught three touchdown passes as the Vikings pulled away after deficits of 14-6 and 8-0. Scoring via the air was something new for the Vikings, who had scored most of their touchdowns running.

"We always knew Draper had the speed," Kraly said.

The second touchdown pass was set up thanks to a blitz by Robert Nash and a fumble recovery by Mark Appleby.

Three plays later, Tesch found Draper open over the middle from 37 yards out to extend a one-point lead.

After a Falcons punt, Draper went to work again. This time it was from 54 yards, as he beat the Falcons secondary for a 28-14 lead.

The Vikings survived a long TD pass by the Falcons and the celebration was underway.

"Walter was more calm today," Draper said of the passing attack.

"When they got up 14-6, I said just calm down and play our game of football and I had to chew them out at halftime," Kraly said.

A field goal set the tone for the Vikings early in the second half.

The defense came up with other big plays to thwart the Falcons, who had defeated Lake County in the pre-season 44-6 and 14-8 on the last play of an overtime session.

Emmett Mallory and Bob Akers both had interceptions.

"The linebackers played a helluva game," Akers said.

The next challenge for the Vikings is the Sangamon County Tigers. The players come from the Springfield area, but the Vikings coaching staff knows they are not the same Bucs team which fell 86-0 early this year. The MFL regular-season runners-up vowed the Saturday contest would not be the last in 1995.

Vikings

and Saturday games.

"This is a great organization," Sykes said.

Then there are the behind-the-scenes folks who keep the Vikes going year in and year out. Owner Rick Starosta wears No. 88 and catches passes from his tight-end position.

"The team over there (the Falcons) is an excellent team. It is the biggest win — ever. People in Lake County do not know what we have here. This is just like the NFL, only on a smaller scale," Starosta, who had tryouts with several NFL teams, said. "I just want to keep this growing and keep the league growing."

"We have always had a good reputation in the league. People come to us and want to play," co-owner Mike Christian said.

Christian, who works for the Central Lake County Joint Action Water Agency, has missed only a handful of games in the seven years.

Although heavy rains brought Mother Nature's fury on places such as Stevenson High and Chicago's Soldier Field, the RL High field, despite its bowl-like location, was all green for the big game.

"They had people working on it at 8 a.m. They bend over backwards for us," Kraly said, noting cooperation from Round Lake Athletic Director Jim Prorok.

Who knows what the semi-professional national tourney will bring — team members vowed this Saturday would not be the last game — but for at least one Saturday in early November, the cold did not matter.

He sees his "Total Fitness Concepts" as the perfect merging at Southlake, and he noted non-members will be able to seek his services.

"The bonus is when they're done playing racquetball, they can work out, but they don't have to be a member to participate in Total Fitness Concepts," Bresloff said.

For more information about personal training opportunities through Total Fitness Concepts, call Bresloff at 949-8180.

Stevenson rally falls short, York moves on in playoffs

To hear the York Dukes' version the 21-14 win over Stevenson was not much of an upset at all.

Coming into the second-round Class A playoff game with a defense which averaged surrendering less than 10 points a game and a makeshift but effective running game, the first-half play by the Dukes was too much for an inspired and previously unbeaten Stevenson team to overcome.

"This is a real tough, emotional loss. The first half we did not play the type of football. I have to take the blame. It is real tough to comeback from a 21-0 deficit. We battled back and thought we had a chance to get them. They did a good job and played inspired defense," Pats Coach Bill Mitz said.

York (9-2) used the dominance of its offensive line to establish the running game early with three touchdowns. The game winner was just seconds before halftime, a 31-yard pass from QB George Connors to Tim Stranton.

"He made a great one-handed catch," Mitz said.

"The offensive line has been doing a great job the last three weeks," York's Eric Anderson said.

Anderson was injured for a time in the second half with a hamstring injury but contributed a 1-yard run for a TD which stunned the Pats crowd and he finished with 124 of York's 199 rushing yards.

"That was the play we wanted to have Stranton one-on-one with a defensive back," York Coach Gary Grouwinkel said. "We were making some mistakes the first half, they did not capitalize and we made some adjustments in the second half."

Following an inspirational halftime talk, Stevenson's (10-1) defense, minus star Jeff Skibitsky, the defense held, pushing York back.

Receiving good field position at the York 45, the offense led by Steve Clancy and Shea Newcomb's carries took over. The drive included a 17-yard gain on fourth down by Newcomb, who finished with a hard-earned 44 yards.

Brandt, held to 50 yards, scored from 4 yards out. QB Ryan Keller (27 yards rushing) added the two-point conversion and the home team was back in this one 5:30 into the second half.

Stevenson had another chance and moved the ball from its own 33.

The Pats' Matt Junia caught a 12-yard pass on fourth down and Clancy gained three on another fourth down bid. Clancy, who would be heard from later, scored from 8 yards out. The York TD catch before halftime loomed large as SHS pulled to within a score on the fourth quarter's second play.

The North Suburban Conference champs, owners of 491 previous points, did not give in, even after their next drive stalled.

The game's first turnover happened and senior Clancy was Johnny-on-the spot. Taking over from the Stevenson 5 with 95 yards to go to continue the season, Keller completed just one more pass, to Junia for a 15-yard gain. The York defensive rush was just too strong.

At just past 9 p.m. on the coldest night of the year, the upset was complete.

"We play in a tough conference. We do not have a lot of breathers," Grouwinkel said. "We have a little better team than what they are used to playing against."

The Dukes play in the West Suburban Silver, which is apparently a long ways away from the NSC - in both distance and talent.

Stevenson, ranked second in Class 6A has been in the playoffs more than any other area team and vows to be back with the likes of Brandt returning. Players such as Keller and Newcomb have probable college careers ahead of them.

"The seniors have given a lot to Stevenson High School and will be sorely missed," Mitz said.

"The sun will come up tomorrow," a philosophical Mitz said.

Friday night's 25-degree temperatures and gusts of wind inspired many football fans to clean out those closets.

The layered look was definitely in at Stevenson and Lake Zurich High Schools as the Patriots and the Bears hosted second round playoff games.

"I have many layers on and a blanket," Ron Kilker said.

Kilker's son, Josh, was one of more than 12 sophomores called up to help Stevenson ready for playoff games. His son saw action in the Pats' 48-6 romp over Chicago Young in the first round.

"I have had the same seat here for three years," Debbie Bond said.

Before being upended by York 21-14, the Pats were looking to complete a career which included only one loss - the sophomore season to Warren High.

A group of fans sat bundled up before the press box. It is the same spot Julie Manwith has had for four years.

"We always sit with the Newcombs, Coach Bill Mitz's father-in-law and the Kellers. This is a very close-knit group," she said.

She recalled arriving at Stevenson High at 5:30 p.m., two hours before a sold-out crowd watched Stevenson demolish rival Libertyville 31-0.

Others noted the many Thursday night dinners cooked for team members.

Long about 9:07 p.m. Stevenson fans realized their dreams to spend Thanksgiving weekend in Normal and cheering their Pats on to the Class 6A title

But that does not take away another North Suburban Conference title, 491 points, virtually the entire senior group named to the all-conference team and another playoff appearance.

Two names to watch for next year: Kyle Brandt, who had 50 of Stevenson's 171 yards rushing and linebacker Adam Butler, who had 10 total tackles. Lineman Brian Hacias completed his Stevenson career with a 6-tackle night.

Intensity: The York Dukes team played with the same intensity as an assistant coach showed before the game. Upset at not being allocated space above the press box at SHS, (although with a strong wind blowing at one's face, one wonders if that is such an advantage) he not-so-kindly asked a mere reporter, who usually covers games north of Lincolnshire and had claimed a 50-yard-line vantage point to vacate the seat. He later apologized.

Going out in style: the Libertyville High team received a police escort for a few blocks on their way to a first-round game with Palatine, a heartbreaking 12-6 loss.

Hospitality: the playoff hospitality award so far has to go to Joliet Catholic. The Hilltoppers proved to be a friendly bunch with their press accommodations. They beat Carmel 7-6 in the playoff's first round, but the donuts and friendliness at Joliet Stadium helped ease the blow.

Will the loss to York renew the push every few years for Stevenson to move out of the NSC? The 40-point wins seem to hamper the Pats come playoff time.

Making friends

Former Chicago Bear stand-out Ron Rivera makes friends with Richie Diesterheft during a benefit at Poor Richard's Pub in Gurnee. The benefit hosted by PR's owner Richard Diesterheft and Nancy Clute of Re-Max Realty raised funds for the families of the students killed in the Fox River Grove bus accident.
